Big winnings at rodeo

United Press International HOUSTON — Cowboy Larry Ferguson left town Monday with a new saddle, boots, truck and horse trailer and best of all — a pocketful of cash. Ferguson, 28, the senior member of a Miami, Okla., rodeo family, won the All-Around championship of the 46th Houston Rodeo Sunday and $13,118, the largest cash payoff in the sport's history.

In taking top honors, Ferguson broke rodeo's existing record earning of $12,873 set in Fort Worth two weeks ago by his brother, Tom Ferguson, 26.

The brothers now will be making a bid for a fifth consecutive world All-Around title.

Larry proved his versatility by earning $7,094 in steer wrestling — tying for second place in the average standings — and $6,024 in calf roping, placing him fifth.

More than three-quarters of a million persons attended the 10-day Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo, breaking the attendance record set last year.

Leroy Shafer, assistant manager of the livestock show and rodeo, said the 15-performance total for the rodeo will top half a million, breaking the record of 469,765 set last year. "It's just been a phenomenal year," Shafer said. "We've been trying to break the three-quarters of a million mark for the last six years."
