system, primarily because College Station is not large enough to have wards. Wards were created by the courts in certain cities in order to insure minority representation on the council. This is certainly not the case in College Station since the only minorities we have are blacks and they are spread throughout four specific areas of the city and constitute less than 2 percent of the population of College Station. A black can't say he or she deserves representation on the council because there are not enough blacks to justify that.

Another problem with the ward system is that the people do not know what ward they reside in or where their voting place is. Will you encourage further building of apartment complexes for students and how do you think this will affect the city in the next 5-10 years? We cannot discourage the building of apartments. Apartments are built by developers, builders and investors because they think they can make money out of it. The city of College Station has no control on whether people will build apartments or not. I personally don't think we will see as many apartments complexes built in the future as we have seen in the past. I have asked students in my classes if they feel there is a shortage of apartments and they say, "No there is not," yet people are continually building apartments. Do you think College Station needs a property tax increase? Yes. The areas that the city gets its income from is too heavily oriented towards utilities and not enough towards property taxation. When the city sets its property tax rate, the city should consider the amount of taxes that property owners are having to pay to the school. Property is getting to the point where it is being taxed too heavily. Taxes should not get to the point where you cannot own property and enjoy the ownership of it — forcing you to sell the property. Taxes are becoming an owner's burden, there is no question about that. If the bond issue passes there have to be a property tax increase. College Station. I do not favor raising the property tax simply as a means of generating additional revenue. I hope we can keep taxes as low as possible, but at the same time, we will have to increase taxes. College Station has the lowest, at least one of the lowest, effective tax rates of any city in the state of Texas.

Do you see any problems with current zoning code? Would you consider new areas for zoning? Yes. We have some problems with the zoning ordinance. One of the problems is that the zoning ordinance has been amended many times since the adoption in 1972. We have very few copies of the zoning ordinance in our files. I think we need to go back and review the entire ordinance, make a whole and make changes where needed and then print a new ordinance, including all the amendments in the past and any of the amendments that are needed. Any ordinance is part of the zoning ordinance should be periodically reviewed and its entirety and we have to do that.

Would you consider construction of more recreational facilities? Absolutely, in fact one of the parts to the bond issue is to get money to buy two large parks that will be predominantly used for events such as baseball field, basketball courts. I hope some of the city of College Station will be large park that will be approximately several hundred acres. The place for it is in the floodplain cause the recreational facility would not increase the runoff could be covered up with without being damaged.
