Will you encourage further building of apartment complexes for students and how do you think this will affect the city in the next 5-10 years?

I think we are overgrowing. All, but some builders are out for quick profit and they're not looking at building on a long range scale. I think we are over-apartmenting this area. There are so many apartments in College Station, that if new industry came to town, the employees and their families would have to build houses outside of town.

Do you think College Station needs a property tax increase?

To meet services, we need an increase, and let's face it, it's going to be inevitable.

Do you see any problems with the current zoning code? Would you consider new areas for construction?

No, not really. It's sure a lot better than Bryan that doesn't have any zoning code.

We need more industry in the city. College Station shouldn't rely on its students for growth. We also need more land management. Let's not grow until we know what we're growing into.

Would you consider construction of more recreational facilities?

Yes. College Station needs a recreational center for women's groups and social gatherings.

Very definitely I'm against the ward system. I don't believe the College Station is large enough to be diversified enough to warrant the ward system. It would be easier to put people on the Council who are well qualified and interested in the city as a whole, with the large system. We are hoping to vote that out this election in April. They voted the ward system in two years ago, never since it has been one big problem. It has been expensive for the city, just to arrange for the ward system.

Will you encourage further building of apartment complexes for students and how do you think this will affect the city in the next 5-10 years?

The university is the life-blood of the city, so if more apartments are needed they should be built. The last survey showed that there were 200 vacancies in the apartments in Bryan-College Station area. I think that means beds, not 2000 total apartments. I don't believe there are more apartments needed at this time. I'm afraid if they build them and we don't need them, we are going to have instant slums in the next five to ten years.

Do you think College Station needs a property tax increase?

Yes, very definitely. We have the new bond proposal for the April election. We need funds for street building improvements and park acquisition improvements, and the only way we can get it is through an increase.

Do you see any problems with the current zoning code? Would you consider new areas for construction?

Yes, we need better procedures for rezoning large vacant areas in the city where present zoning could have undesirable impact on surrounding residential areas. We need better protection of residential areas from commercial and apartment intrusion. They need to study the area more closely, and designate which are apartment areas, so that it does not intrude on the existing neighborhoods and single-family residential areas. This is something that has to have a lot of good planning, and studying to see whether the new areas are needed. We also need to continue to review and update the city's comprehensive plan since zoning should be based on that. The comprehensive plan is an overall plan to the whole city and it indicates what density the city wants built in the different areas.

Would you consider construction of more recreational facilities?

Yes, we need a favorable vote on the bond issue that is coming up in April. The bond proposal is for four parks and recreational facilities. The bond is for $1,800,000. This will include both acquisition and improvements to existing park lands. We need more neighborhood parks where we can have basketball, tennis and other facilities for the smaller neighborhoods. This way the youngsters won't have to go as far to get to a park. I know the city is considering a new swimming pool for College Hills. Presently College Station has only one pool which is the Rice Creek swimming pool. The city has grown so rapidly, and we are definitely underdeveloped in the park area.
