age: 19
classification: sophomore
major: Finance
hometown: Austin
What are your qualifications for this office?
After being here at Texas A&M University for almost two years I have that Fighting Texas Aggie Spirit deeply instilled in me. I'm outgoing, energetic, and I love life and people. I have a religious faith that keeps me down to earth. If elected, I know next year when I'm down on that field in a tight situation I'll have you, the 12th Man, behind me, and the only man next (See SMILEY, page 9)

Martin

Junior Yell Leader
name: Peyton Martin
age: 19
classification: sophomore
major: Finance
hometown: Victoria
What are your qualifications for this office?
The strongest qualification I possess for this office is that I participate. I have been active in intramurals, A&M sporting events, presently a member of my dorm council board, and I will be serving dorm chief for the upcoming bond. I am fully aware of the serious responsibility that yell leaders have regard to A&M's most coveted traditions.
Is there a problem of too many athletic events? What alternatives or solutions should be used when yell leaders can't attend a sporting event?
No, I don't think there is a problem of too many athletic events and (See MARTIN, page 9)

age: 20
classification: sophomore
major: Building Construction
hometown: Austin
What are your qualifications for this office?
To be qualified for the position of yell leader you must pass the rules and regulations, be willing to spend not more than $100, and work as hard as you can for about two weeks before the elections. I hope these are the main differences I have between the other students here at A&M. I think ideally, after almost two years at A&M every student has developed a strong enough tie with the school to dedicate themselves a year or maybe two to represent such a great school as a yell leader. I just decided to put in the little bit extra which it takes to run for the office.

Burris

Junior Yell Leader
name: Eddie Burris
age: 19
classification: sophomore
major: Accounting
hometown: San Antonio
What are your qualifications for this office?
My three most important qualifications are that I have spirit, desire, and pride in being an Aggie. I am or have been: fish camp counselor, fish camper, dorm athletic director, dorm council, intramural ref and umpire. I love sports and hate t.u. I think A&M has many fine traditions that are important, like Bonfire. I want the job very badly. I have wanted it since before I came to A&M.

LOWER SERVICE CHARGES

to most checking customers.

If you're a Bank of A&M checking customer, your service charges are now computed on "average daily balance" rather than the "minimum daily balance." The computer schedule is nearly the same. But the net effect of the difference could save you $1.00 or $2.00 a month.

Not every customer will benefit (it depends on your account's balance during the month). In no case, however, will a customer pay more service charges under this new system than was assessed during the standard "minimum daily balance" schedule.

If you're a Bank of A&M customer, you may spend less money on banking service than ever before. If you're not a Bank of A&M customer, here's another reason to switch.

We're more than a bank because you're more than a customer. That's our slogan - and lower service charges is one way to prove it.
