 Texas A&M.
 What are your qualifications?

I have served this past year as speaker of the Student Senate. This position gave me much insight into student government and what is required of the student body president. I have had previous experience in combined leadership and administrative capacities through serving as both state and national president of the Future Farmers of America. As national president I had the opportunity to visit many university campuses around the country, thus gaining more insight to some possible opportunities for our student government. I have also been active in other organizations on campus. I feel that I would be able to work effectively with the State Legislature this next year because of my past experience working in Washington, D.C.

What University regulations would you like to see changed?
 Since the Student Senate has recently completed their recommendations for changes in the University rules and regulations, nothing comes to mind right now that would be of major importance. I would be willing to listen to any complaint that students might have and do what I could to resolve the problem. My major area of interest right now would be regulations concerning the academic areas and some of the present problems now being studied.

On what basis would you choose members for University committees? Would you appoint yourself to any of them?

In the past the problem has not been finding people who are qualified. We need those interested and qualified. The student needs to have some background in the area that the committee deals with. They must also be interested enough to attend all meetings. They must be able to effectively state students' views and gain the respect of the other members of the committee. I would also set up a program by which the students would make regular reports to the student body president or the executive director. This would provide more effective discussion with the administration concerning the decisions of these committees. I would look first to find other students to fill these positions, thus not taking too much of anyone's time. However, if no one is interested or if the influence of the position of student body president would further the student voice in an important issue, I would consider the possibility of appointing myself.

Do you feel that students have adequate input into University procedures? If not, what changes would you propose?
 Students at A&M actually have more influence on University procedures than students on most other campuses that I have visited. The areas that have strong student input are some of the most successful, such as food services. However, there are still some areas where there is little or no student input. Any area that affects students should have some student input. A student representative should not be just an ornament but his ideas and suggestions should be seriously considered. The only change, then, would be simply to ask that the University in every area dealing with students be more receptive and responsive to student input.

Do you think fraternities and sororities should be recognized on campus by the University? Why?

One question I would ask in response to this one is, "Do the fraternities and sororities actually desire University recognition under the present requirements that accompany this recognition?" Most are structured so that this recognition would create some problems. They appear to be experiencing growth under the present system. What they seem to desire most is the opportunity to work off campus so long as they are not threatened or put down just for existing. It is a matter of finding a system acceptable by all, whereby they have some opportunity to work, on campus or off. There are many factors on both sides that must be dealt with before recognition will be considered by both sides.

Should alcohol be allowed on campus? Why?

The present policy concerning alcohol on campus appears to be adequate. I see no real need for change. As far as a student pub on campus, it appears now from a practical view that the odds are against it. The opposition of the Board of Regents and administration, the state law, the availability of the competition created within the local business community seem to add up against it. For it appears that everyone will be keeping those that are walking distance of campus.

Should a student sit on the Board of Regents? If so, under what conditions?
 There is a definite need for student input on the Board of Regents. The student should have the least speaking privileges, would favor more. Presently student body president has speaking privileges at board meetings and use this privilege to make the student voice is heard.

What are your feelings about service fees, paid by all students as opposed to user fees, would be charged only for services?

When the majority of students for a service, then the cost of students should receive the fits. If this is not true, the service should be funded heavily by the users.

Which services (if any) should receive more or less student fee allocations? Why?

The answers to this important question would be determined through a poll of the student body whose input would determine benefits of particular services. Costs can be determined by looking at the actual amounts budgeted. By knowing the costs and the benefits we could determine the cost-benefit ratios and then proceed to answer this question with certainty and assuredness than by personal conjecture. Should the athletic department have been cut off completely from student service fees?

Will There Be Blood If You Need It?

... only if there's a volunteer donor to provide it. Like yourself. Blood has to come from another human being. It cannot be manufactured. You can be that volunteer donor April 3-5.

Wadley Central Blood Bank is proud to have been associated with this 12th Man tradition of service to humanity during the past 18 years. We look forward to continuing to participate in the Texas A&M Blood Club drives for many years to come and we join with all Texans in saluting this unparalleled gesture of generosity and concern for one's fellow man.
