Rehearsals begin for 'Pajama Tops'

By FLAVIA KRONE

The cast is chosen and rehearsals are underway for the second summer dinner theatre production, "Pajama Tops."

The play is being sponsored by the MSC Summer Dinner Theatre Committee in conjunction with the Aggie Players.

Directed by English instructor Roy O'Valle, this comedy by Mawby Green and Ed Feilbert is a spin-off from the French farce, "Moumou," written by Jean de Létraz.

The seven outrageous characters, including a philandering husband, voluptuous mistress, coquettish maid and lecherous gendarme, combine to create a romantic entanglement that will keep audiences laughing.

The romantic shenanigans all take place in the living room of a French country villa, and should provide a summer's evening full of fun, said Sandy Boothe, summer dinner theatre program coordinator.

A unique set design will enable the actors to move about more freely than on a conventional stage. Platforms at various heights will ring the stage in concentric circles making it easier for actors to enter and exit and to create their own dramatic "space," while on stage.

Because the play is being performed in-the-round, all of the house seats promise a good view of the action.

Most of the actors, technical crew and assistant producers are Texas A&M students. While most of the students hail from the theatre arts department, other academic majors also are represented.

The play will open on Aug. 2 with a special non-food night performance. Tickets for the non-food night are $2 for students and $3 for non-students.

Tickets for the Aug. 3 through Aug. 5 dinner theatre production are $4.95 for students and $7 for non-students. Dinner will be served at 6:45 p.m.

Dinner-goers will be treated to pre-show entertainment by musicians provided by the Basement Committee.

The curtain for all shows goes up at 8 p.m. in the MSC, room 201.

Tickets for "Pajama Tops" go on sale Fri., July 14 at the MSC box-office.

Officials discuss cause of Texas hotel collapse

United Press International
CTORIA — Fire officials said Tuesday a demolition crew apparently destroyed too many pilings on an old abandoned hotel, causing dilapidated building to come falling down on top of them.

They had an air hammer in there they were knocking down the gus and supports," said deputy Tony Haschke.

On the weekend they were going to completely demolish the thing. They just took out too many pilings.

Meanwhile, rescue workers dug through tons of debris of the Denver Hotel for the fourth victim of the Tuesday disaster.

"We have three bodies at the morgue and we believe there's one more body down there somewhere," a city spokesman said. "I don't see how anyone could have survived that collapse. But we will keep working until everyone is accounted for."

The hotel was being torn down to make way for a parking lot.
