Chess match to resume with protest

United Press International
BAGUIO CITY, Philippines — A possible protest intruded on the first long weekend break in the World Chess Championships Monday.

Officials with the team of Anatoly Karpov, the 27-year-old Soviet world champion, reportedly had protested that a Korchnoi aide had taken pictures of Saturday night's match after the official time allotted for photographs.

Petra Leeuwerick, the chief Korchnoi representative, told newsmen she had heard she was the subject of a protest over the camera incident.

The complaint supposedly was filed by chief Karpov representative Vikto Baturinsky to FIDE's chief match arbiter Lothar Schmid. Both men left town Sunday.

Their mutual personal dislike is well known.

Do not disturb

This student has taken every precaution to make sure nothing disturbs his afternoon slumber in the MSC student lounge.

The MSC was a popular place for sleeping during Monday afternoon rain that thoroughly soaked the campus.

Rooming house falls in; 50 killed, 17 hospitalized

United Press International
CAIRO, Egypt — A dilapidated five-story rooming house collapsed Monday in a tragedy that emphasized this capital's serious overcrowding problems. About 50 people were killed or injured, police said.

Officials said 30 bodies were recovered from the debris and 17 people were hospitalized.

Tenants in the working-class Al Sharabia district were warned nearly two months ago that their building — 21 one-room apartments facing a narrow, dark alley — was liable to collapse. They refused requests to leave their apartments, however, because they had nowhere else to go.

The building collapsed around dawn, trapping many residents before they left for work. An adjacent house along the alley partially caved, killing another two people.

Three other houses were damaged.

It was the second major leg party in Cairo in eight days and drew attention on its housing conditions, as well as other problems causing overcrowding in this city of 10 million.

Last Monday, a bus enjamming with passengers plunged into the River Nile after hitting a truck. Fifty-six people died.

The site of today's accident is a slum area in which families accommodate about 40 people, half its current population. The capital's telephone, power and water systems frequently, and landlords from the lopsided supply-demand situation on new housing demand "key money" of $20,000 from prospective tenants.

Rhodesian troops clash with guerillas in capital

United Press International
SALISBURY, Rhodesia — Government troops clashed with insurgents in the capital for the first time in the 6½-year history of the black nationalist guerrilla campaign, authorities said Monday.

A police spokesman said three guerrillas have been killed in Salisbury since Friday. Another two insurgents were captured and one civilian was wounded, a police statement said.

A number of residents of the Highfield ghetto challenged the official communiqué and said another action by police that went unreported resulted in the death of an unarmed civilian.

Police said there were ties beyond those reported.

The clashes occurred in Highfield, two black townships on the southwestern Salisbury.

The police statement said a "terrorist" was wounded and injured after he attempted to enter in Mufakose Friday night.

The next morning, the statement said, police traced three insurgents to a house in Highfield. "They attacked police and were shot and killed," the statement said.
