'Pot' may aid patients taking cancer drugs

NASHVILLE, Tenn. -- Cancer patients at Vanderbilt Hospital "in rare instances" are smoking marijuana to relieve nausea and vomiting associated with chemotherapy treatments, hospital officials say.

Dr. Anthony Greco, an assistant professor of medicine in Vanderbilt's division of oncology for the study of tumors, said Wednesday patients who use marijuana do so of their own volition and obtain it "privately."

"In occasional cases, the patient appears to be very satisfied. In the area of cancer, we are interested in what we are interested in, and we are interested in what we are interested in," Greco said there have been "one or two" patients under the care of physicians in the oncology department who have smoked marijuana but patients of doctors from private practice may also be using marijuana.

OFFICIAL NOTICE TO TEXAS A&M UNIVERSITY STUDENTS

In the past, certain information has been made public by Texas A&M University as a service to students, families and other interested individuals.

Under the "Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974," the following directory information may be made public unless the student desires to withhold all or any portion of it.

Student's name, address, telephone listing, date and place of birth, major field of study, participation in officially recognized activities and sports, dates of attendance, degrees and awards received, and the most recent previous educational agency or institution attended by the student.

Any student wishing to withhold any or all of this information should fill out, in person, the appropriate form, available to graduate students at the Graduate College and to undergraduate students at the Registrar's Office, no later than 5 p.m., Tuesday September 13, 1977.

Edwin H. Cooper, Dean
Admissions and Records
Texas A&M University

SPECIAL NOTICE

D. Individuals needing this information in connection with a student's application for, or receipt of, financial aid.

E. State and local officials to whom state laws (in effect on or before November 19, 1974) require information to be reported.

F. Organizations like Educational Testing Service and College Entrance Examination Board in connection with developing, validating, or administering predictive tests, administering student aid programs, and improving instruction, but such organizations must not show the personally identifiable information to outsiders and the information will be destroyed when no longer needed for audit, evaluation, and/or enforcement of federal legal requirements.

G. Accrediting organizations.

H. Parents who certify a student is carried as a dependent for federal income tax purposes. This certification is restricted to inaccurate, misleading, or otherwise inappropriate records and information. The following procedures shall be followed:

I. Appropriate persons, if the knowledge of such information is necessary to protect the health or safety of the student or other persons.

J. Individuals requiring such information by means of a judicial order or any lawfully issued subpoena, upon condition that the student is notified by the University of all such orders and subpoenas in advance of compliance.

V. Student Rights to Challenge Records

Students have the right to a hearing to challenge records and information directly relating to them. The challenge is restricted to inaccurate, misleading, or otherwise inappropriate records and information. The following procedures shall be followed:

A. Any student wishing to challenge records or information directly relating to them should notify the individual responsible for maintaining the record of the wish to challenge. The notice must be in writing and specifically identify the item challenged and the basis for the challenge. This written request must be filed in duplicate with the custodian of the challenged record.

B. All initial hearings will be informal and participatory and the custodian of the challenged records or information, the student and the author (if appropriate) of the material.

C. If any of the participants (record custodian, student or author) are not satisfied with the results of the informal hearing, a formal hearing will be conducted under the procedures adopted and published below:

1. The hearing will be conducted and the results decided within a reasonable period of time (seven business days) following the request for the hearing.

2. The hearing will be conducted, and the decision rendered, by an institutional official or other party who does not have a direct interest in the outcome of the hearing. The appointment of the official or party will be made by the Vice President to whom the record custodian reports.

3. The student will be afforded a full and fair opportunity to present evidence relevant to challenging the content of the educational records in order to insure that they are not inaccurate, misleading, or otherwise in violation of the privacy or other rights of students. The hearing also provides an opportunity for correction or deletion of any inaccurate, misleading, or otherwise inappropriate data contained in the record and/or to insert into the record a written explanation of the student respecting the content of the challenged record.

4. The decision must be rendered in writing to all interested parties within a reasonable period of time (seven business days) after the conclusion of the hearing.

Don't let cancer scare you to death.

If there's one thing we must make you aware of it's this: When discovered early, many cancers are curable. More than 1,500,000 Americans who are cured of cancer are proof. No one on record, however, has ever been cured of cancer by worrying about it. If you suspect you have cancer, do the smart thing; make an appointment with your doctor.
