Uprisings spread Vietnam claims Cambodia troops suffer heavy losses

United Press International
BANGKOK, Thailand — Vietnam claimed Monday that uprisings against the communist Phnom Penh regime have spread to 16 of Cambodia's 19 provinces despite the "fiercest ever" domestic purge.

The Vietnamese army paper, Quan Doi Nhan Dan, in an article broadcast by Radio Hanoi said the "cruel genocidal Peking-ordered anti-Vietnam policy" pursued by Phnom Penh leaders "has driven them into an unprecedentedly difficult and dangerous situation."

"The rebel forces have operated and gained firm bases in many areas."

The paper said the anti-government guerrillas included people of all classes from laborers to personnel of central government agencies and the armed forces.

"In several localities, the guerrilla forces have been deployed in such a way that they can support one another," the newspaper said.

The article said the Cambodian government "has launched the fiercest ever domestic purge which is taking place daily and hourly in Cambodia."

It said the internal purge "is in reality a scheme to kill all those who have not sided with it and to continue to barbarously repress all the Cambodian people's uprisings."

Intelligence analysts have also reported uprisings against the Communist regime in Cambodia, but not of the extent described by Vietnam. Some of the analysts say Vietnamese-supported guerrilla forces have been operating effectively in areas near Vietnam's embattled border.

One analyst suggested that Vietnamese strategy in Cambodia may be to use its regular army to chew up Cambodian forces clearing the way for the anti-government guerrillas to topple the Phnom Penh regime.

The Quan Doi Nhan Dan article said Cambodian troops have suffered heavy defeats in border fighting.

"Many of its regular army units, including those in the Kandal military region which (Cambodian Prime Minister) Pol Pot and (Deputy Prime Minister) Ieng Sary consider as their most seasoned units, have been wiped out," the article said.
