SWC players rewriting record book

Runners, passers and receivers almost tore up the Southwest Conference football record book last weekend.

The chief assaults were turned in by Texas Tech running back James Hadnot, SMU's let's-play-catch combo of Mike Ford and Emanuel Tolbert, and TCU freshman kicker Phillip Epps.

Hadnot, a converted tight end starting his fifth game in the backfield, and the fourth best rushing game in the 64-year history of the Southwest Conference with 2689 yards gained in the first four games combined and vaulted him from eighth in SWC rushing last week to second this week at 101.6 yards per game.

Ford completed 32 of 43 passes for 335 yards and four touchdowns, all the scoring passes to Tolbert, in the Mustangs' wild 28-21 victory over Baylor. Those TD tosses tied conference marks for both the touchdown passes and touchdown receptions. Ford's 32 completions also tie for fifth on the all-time single-game completion tables.

Tolbert's 13 receptions tie him for third in SWC history, behind the 15 caught by Jerry Lvias of SMU against Ohio State in 1968 and 14 shared by Tolbert (against Arkansas last year) and Rice's David Houser (against Florida in 1976).

Epps' 100-yard kickoff return against Rice was the 14th in SWC history to go the full distance. Last one to do it was another freshman, SMU's Arthur Whittington in 1974.

Hadnot joined some fast company in his big show. Only runners to top his one-game total of 268 yards are three All-Americans — Roosevelt Leaks with 341 against SMU in 1973, Texas Tech's Bob Smith with 297 against SMU in 1950, and Arkansas' Dickie with 271 in 1973. The effort included four runs of 25 yards, also helped catapult him into second place in tandem at 119.6 yards a game.

Texas A&M's Curtis Dickie to 25 yards on 15 attempts Saturday, still retained his both rushing and tandem yards and 172.6, respectively.

Otherwise, Texas A&M's well statistically, holding conference leads in total offense (339.6), total defense (194.6), passing defense (85), Arkansas placed the Aggies as the rushing leader with a yield of 109.2 yards a game to A&M's 109.2.

Ford's big day saw SMU's passing offense lead to more than 100 yards over second-place The Mustangs are averaging yards passing a game.

Is it sick to love a pen?

Is it crazy to love marker pens that give you the smoothest, thinnest line town... and feel so right in your hand? Is it mad to worship pens with their little metal "collars" to keep their plastic points from getting squishy?

Not if the pen is a Pilot marker pen.

Our Razor Point, at only 69c, gives the kind of extra-fine delicate line you'll flip over. And for those times you want a little less line, have a fling with our fine point 59c Fineliner. It has the will and fortitude to actually write through carbons.

So, don't settle for a casual relationship. Get yourself a lasting one, or two, to have and to hold... at your college book store.
