

Bengals upset Oilers

United Press International
CINCINNATI— Cincinnati Bengals' head coach Homer Rice spoke confidently to his winning team just before Sunday's game against Houston.

"We're a time bomb," he said. "And we're going to explode."
The prediction was right on target.

The Bengals, coming into the game as the laughing stock of the NFL with a 0-8 record and no touchdowns in the previous 13 quarters, exploded for four TDs to shock the heavily favored Oilers, 28-13.

Sighed Rice after the long-awaited first win, "I'm numb."

"I'd forgotten how to win," added Bengals' defensive lineman Gary Burley. "For awhile around here, I thought people enjoyed losing."

Bengals' general manager Paul Brown, under fire for the winless string and criticized by some for replacing former head coach Bill Johnson with Rice four games ago, was quick to go into the locker room after the win and congratulate Rice.

"That looks like our old team," praised Brown, shaking Rice's hand several times. "A fine job. They can play anybody. It looks like our old team again."

For sure, it looked like the old Ken Anderson again.

Anderson, finally shaking off the effects of a broken hand, personally sparked the win by firing a 45-yard touchdown pass to Isaac Curtis and throwing bombs of 43 and 45 yards to set up one-yard TD runs by Pete

Johnson and Tony Davis.

The Bengals' other TD, another one-yard run by Johnson, also was triggered by a big play—a 65-yard dash by rookie David "Deacon" Turner all the way to the Houston two.

"The difference was the big play," agreed Rice. "We made it everytime. Kenny was ready. He was throwing like he can."

Anderson, who had been intercepted 10 times in the past four games, was not intercepted Sunday and completed 11 of 16 passes for 268 yards.

"It's a big relief to finally get a win," said Anderson, "because, believe me, 1-8 is a whole lot better than 0-9."

Houston, which had been sky high all this past week after Monday night's conquest of previously unbeaten Pittsburgh, came down to earth with a thud.

"Cincinnati played like they know how and, to be honest, we played like we didn't," said Oilers' Head Coach Bum Phillips, whose team is now 5-4.

Chimed in Houston quarterback Dan Pastorini, who accounted for the Oilers' only two touchdowns with a 16-yard pass to Ken Burrough and a six-yarder to Mike Renfro in the last quarter after the game was out of reach. "They certainly didn't play like the 0-8 team they were."

"We were ready for them," added Pastorini, insisting the Oilers weren't taking Cincy lightly after whipping Pittsburgh. "They played good defense and they just beat us."

Cincinnati, thanks to the 1-yard touchdown runs of Johnson and Davis, had mounted a 21-0 lead before Houston finally scored midway through the final quarter.

After the Oilers had pulled to within 21-6 on Pastorini's 16-yard pass to Burrough with 7:23 remaining, Anderson quickly teamed on a 45-yard scoring pass to Curtis, to up the margin to 28-6.

Houston got a final tally on Pastorini's 6-yard pass to Renfro in the closing minutes, but by then the outcome had been decided.

The Bengals, who came into the game with 13 straight quarters without a touchdown, got their first touchdown of the day late in the first period on a 1-yard run by Johnson that was set up by Anderson's 43-yard pass to Billy Brooks.

Cincinnati upped its lead to 14-0 early in the third quarter when Anderson lofted a 57-yard pass to Curtis, setting up a 1-yard scoring run by Davis.

Cincinnati's lead then widened to 21-0 in the closing seconds of the third quarter when rookie David "Deacon" Turner dashed 65-yards to the Houston two, setting up another 1-yard touchdown burst by Johnson.

Houston's deepest penetration had been the Cincinnati 41-yard line until midway through the last quarter when Pastorini threw his two touchdown passes.

But any hopes of an Oilers' comeback was thwarted by the 45-yard Anderson to Curtis touchdown pass.

Ags split game

The Texas A&M men's team had a halfway successful weekend in Wofford Camp. The Aggies defeated University of Illinois Chicago Circle 13-6. Steve Sampson led Texas to six goals.

Saturday the Aggies lost to Loyola 11-10 in double overtime. Leland scored four goals to lead Aggies' efforts. Leland had his thumb cast taken off the day before and had not played with the team some time.

"We defeated ourselves in game," said Aggie coach Fossdick. "We made a lot of mistakes."

"The loss doesn't ruin our chances for the NCAA finals, it just makes it a sure thing. We must win situation now."

The Aggies, with a season of 10-3 leave on an eastern Thursday. They will compete against such schools as Columbia, Yale, MIT and Brown.

Dedication Ceremony

The atmosphere sparked with friendship and respect at the Penberthy dedication ceremony Saturday, October 21. The new IM complex has been named for Walter Loven Penberthy, a past Intramural Director who is known as the father of A&M intramurals.

Mr. Penberthy received a plaque from the Board of Regents and the IM office was presented a portrait of Mr. Penberthy. Speakers at the ceremony included Dr. Jarvis Miller, president of A&M Uni-

"Mr. Penny"

Walter Loren Penberthy, known as "Mr. Penny" graduated from Ohio State University in 1926 and came to Texas A&M College in that same year to serve as intramural director and assistant professor of physical education.

His philosophy was that every interested student should have the opportunity to participate in IM; working from this philosophy, he reorganized the program from battalion level to smaller units so all students could participate. This ideal still followed by the IM program which reaches almost every student at A&M.

Mr. Penberthy also served as Department Head, Dean of Men, Chairman of the Athletic Council (and was responsible for Kyle Field's first expansion), Chairman of the MSC Council, and Professor of H&PE during his 40 years at A&M.

Mr. Penberthy retired in 1966. He knew more students by name than almost any other professor, wrote a philosophy column in the "Battalion" for many years and was very student-oriented.

By An Arm —

It could have been a photo finish — it was only won by an arm. In case you're confused, we're talking about the IM arm wrestling contest. Congratulations, an IM T-shirt and a hearty handshake to the 1978-79 champs.
