Chutist scrubs record attempt

United Press International
LAKE CHARLES, La. — After 5.5 hours of one bone-jarring jump every six minutes, Bob Alspaugh abandoned his attempt to set the world's record for number of parachute jumps in 24 hours. Alspaugh, a former carpenter, was attempting to break the record of 232 held by Canadian Jean Pierre Blanchet and to raise money for a charity. He gave up the try about 11:30 p.m. Friday.

U.N. expecting clashes

United Press International
PARIS — Western nations are determined to meet a new Soviet-backed Arab drive against Israel head-on at the general conference of the U.N. Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization, conference sources said.

If no compromise is found, the clash might lead to a crisis similar to the one that ripped UNESCO four years ago, the sources said.

In the first confrontation, Israel was driven out of UNESCO — a move that prompted the United States to temporarily suspend its vital financial contribution. The contributions were eventually reinstated after Israel's re-admission.

The Arab-Israeli conflict coupled with a clash over a controversial draft declaration on the use of mass media to drive a wedge between the Western and many Third World delegations.

A special 25-nation subcommittee Friday began studying the media draft under the chairmanship of Gunnar Carbo, deputy general of the Norwegian Foreign Ministry and a member of UNESCO Executive Board.

The declaration became a hot issue because of Western opposition to the present draft that allows governments to control media.

The Soviet bloc is fully behind the Third World's drive for adoption of the declaration in its present form.
