 The Men's Team Handball Club dumped Baylor in a double header, February 25. The clash took place in Waco and scores were 25-21 and 25-13. Good going, Team Handball!

Gymnastics Club Meet Results

The Texas A&M Gymnastics Club took second place in a men's competition at SWTSU on February 24. Texas Tech was first with 156 points, A&M had 137, SWTSU scored 117, and Pan American was fourth (score unavailable.) This was the club's first meet in several years. They are hoping to accumulate a good record during the rest of the season. Ray Moltz placed third in all-around competition with 36 points and was second in Vault. Scott Holman was fourth in Vault and also placed high in the Rings and High Bar events. Pat Callihan took fourth place among a group of strong tumblers in Free-Exercise. Joel Weddington made fifth all-around with 32 points. Other team members were Perry Moreau, Rick Zapata, Jim Foght, and Kow Sun.

"I-Spy" Participant of the Week

Bob Vorlop is one of our officials in action. Many officials will upgrade their position by becoming registered at the ASA clinic in March. Bob Vorlop should come by the IM office to pick up his "Be Our Guest" card redeemable for free food at McDonald's.

Racquetball Club Singles Competition

The TAMU Racquetball club opened its first singles tournament of the spring semester on Feb. 16, 17 and 18.

Number one-seeded Rufus Martinez dominated the courts as usual, but was challenged by last year's Intramural champ Corky Dunn. Dunn used a devastating backhand to take the first game 21-0. Martinez initiated his kill shots for a 21-19 win to tie the match. His experience and confidence took the tie and the trophy in Men's Open 11-7.

Charles Shea, after losing to

Martinez in the first round won the consolation bracket 3-21, 21-12, 11-0 over John Beckerdite.

Neysa Buckley claimed top honors in the men's B division. Second-seeded Buckley did not lose a game. She defeated her rival Michelle Narciso 21-11, 21-10 in the semifinals. Fourth seeded Bob King defeated Richard Gitelson, number one seed, 21-10, 21-17 to vye with Buckley for the trophy. Bob dropped the finals to Neysa 21-10, 21-18 and Michelle grabbed third over Gitelson by default. Consolation prize went to Charles Bohelman as he defeated Lucinda Lomus 21-6, 21-8.

Men's C saw Keith Thompson defeat Thomas Braw for the trophy 21-15, 21-19. Bill Bryant hustled over David Weaver 21-17, 21-7 for third place. Consolation winner was Greg Kubola.

In women's open, Chris Sellar, last semester's woman's B Champ placed first. June Horn was second in the round robin play. Women's B was won by Susan Oakliff over Carol O'Sullivan 21-3, 21-12. Allison Taylor claimed third and Cathy Broussard captured the consolation honors.

Swoosh! is a sound often heard at slam-dunk contests. This is a scene from last year's contest. Watch for the dates for the finals in the Slam-Dunk Contest at the half-time of the All University Men's Class A Championship game.
