A&M's Julie Fiske, wins $500 award

A second term bio-engineering student, Julie Fiske, has been awarded a $500 check by the Federal Employee Association in San Antonio. She is a graduate of Robert E. Lee High School in San Antonio where she was in the National Honor Society.

Because of classes, her parents and sister received the award for her at the association's dinner. Her father, Charles Fiske, is a police captain on San Antonio's force.

The award is given to any federal, state, county or city employee, or legal dependent if they have graduated from an accredited high school.

Moody picks new sea cadet leaders

The Texas Maritime Academy at Moody College in Galveston announced new cadet leaders March 19. Rear Adm. Kenneth Haynes, superintendent of the academy, said J. Mark Grinstead of Seabrook has been selected as corps commander. The admiral also named Charles Gabriel of Dickinson, as corps executive officer. The new Corps Chief Petty Officer is Stephen Potz-Nielsen of Longview. New Corps Adjutant is Jeanne Lambrecht of Lockport, N.Y., and the new Corps Master-At-Arms is William McBride of Austin.

Saying his policy is to "increase both the responsibility and authority of the cadet leadership as soon as possible," Haynes announced new cadet company commanders. Company A commander is Blake Peevy of Texas City. Stacy Payne of Houston will command B company. Company C commander is Frank Ridgley of San Antonio and D company's commander will be Russell Gregg of Edmond, Okla.

The Texas Maritime Academy is part of the Texas A&M University System and is one of only five maritime academies in the nation. It is the only one on the gulf coast.

Batt staffers win writing awards

Several Battalion editors have won state or nationwide awards recently. David Boggan, sports editor, placed tenth in the national Hearst Foundation Journalism Awards Program and won a $100 scholarship. He received the award for a story last fall about former Head Football Coach Emory Bellard's resignation.

Andy Williams, assistant managing editor, will receive an award scroll for placing nineteenth in the same competition. He won his award in the "breaking news" category for a story last December concerning a hiring scheme for a non-existent warehouse in the area.

Kim Tyson, editor, won the Corpus Christi Press Club's "University Award" as outstanding college journalist for 1978. Tyson was judged against other collegiate journalists who submitted clippings for the contest. She received the $1,000 cash in Corpus Christi last Friday.

Vet medical group honors Dr. Price

Dr. Alvin A. Price was honored by the Texas Veterinary Medical Association at its recent annual convention in San Antonio. TVMA President Dr. A.F. Smith presented Price a plaque that read "In appreciation of service as keynote speaker for Veterinarian's Political Action Committee 1977-78."

Currently administrator of biomedical science and professor of veterinary physiology at Texas A&M University's College of Veterinary Medicine, Price has received numerous honors from the TVMA and other professional organizations.

Price joined the Texas A&M faculty in 1949 in the anatomy department and served as dean of the veterinary college from 1957 to 1973.

Klussmann named head of wildlife, fisheries

Dr. Wallace G. Klussmann, wildlife and fisheries project leader and marine program leader for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, has been named head of the Texas A&M University Wildlife and Fisheries Department. Klussmann will fill the vacancy created when Dr. James Teer resigned recently to become director of the Welder Wildlife Foundation.

The new department head came to Texas A&M in 1963 to serve as wildlife and fisheries specialist and was later named project leader for the Extension Service.

The appointment was announced jointly by Dr. Perry L. Adkisson, the university's vice president for agriculture and renewable resources; Dr. J.M. Prescott, vice president for academic affairs, and H.O. Kunkel, dean of agriculture.

STARSHIP SHOPS

Manor East Mall & Culpepper Plaza

Swensen's is a Mocha Chip off the old block.

Our PRALINE ALMOND had more almonds per bite.

Hear about the guy who jumped a claim on a SWENSEN'S GOLD RUSH SUNDAE and then did a HOT FUDGE BONANZA SPLIT?

We would like to point out that SASSAPARILLA is not spelled SASSAPARILLA even though SASSAPARILLA is pronounced SASSPARILLA, so when you come into Swensen's be sure to order a PHOSPHATE.

ATTENTION: Swensen's Banana Split.

If you see him, please send him home.

Our Vanilla is so old fashioned, we have to give it a cookie for a sundae escort. (...but let me tell you about that cookie.)

When you eat a BLACK BART SUNDAE you get a chocolate moustache, a marshmallow snarl and an irresistible urge to stick up a cherry orchard.

Fact: Swensen's has a recipe for Dill Pickle Ice Cream.
Fact: Swensen's makes their ice cream in small batches, 40 quarts at a time.
Fact: You can order Dill Pickle Ice Cream at Swensen's. (Minimum order, 40 quarts)

SWENSEN'S ICE CREAM CONES WEIGH A FULL QUARTER POUND. Even our thin mint.

SWENSEN'S would like to squelch the rumor that our PINEAPPLE SHAKE is the latest dance craze in Hawaii.

If you can't bring the family to Swensen's, bring Swensen's to the family. Take-out available.
