Tourney draws tops in ping pong

By J. TRIGG CRAWFORD
Battalion Reporter

While dragons, sorcerers and other unusual beings were attending the AggieCon X upstairs in the Memorial Student Center Friday night, another not-so-strange event was taking place downstairs — the MSC Recreation Committee Table Tennis Tournament.

Ngo Le Van demonstrated both skill and concentration Friday as he won the tournament. Second place went to Ed Chan, and James Huang placed third.

The tournament was open to anyone associated with the University, but when entries closed and play began at 6 p.m., there were no women in the tournament.

Tournament co-chairmen Mike Bearrow and Vince Vaden, both members of the A&M Table Tennis Club and the Table Tennis Team were pleased with the turnout and the caliber of the participants.

"These guys are of great quality," Bearrow said. "They are the best players that we have on campus."

"There is a table tennis club and team on campus, but we know that there are some more people that are here at the University who like table tennis," Vaden said. "We wanted to get some quality players out for the tournament."

And both Bearrow and Vaden feel that they did get fine players involved in the tournament. Along with a few participants who are on the team, there were players who just play for fun.

Jaimie Villarroel, a team member from Brazil, is one of the seasoned players — he has been playing for nine years.

"I practice a couple of hours three times a week," Villarroel said. "The strongest part of my game is my forehand — I use a lot of topspin."

While Villarroel is the type of player who likes to be aggressive and get the first offensive move in, Andy Chu, another team member, steps back and takes on the defensive.

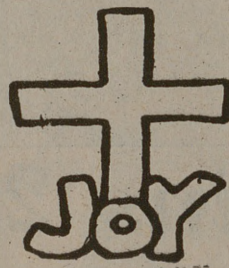

"I've been playing for about two years," Chu said. "But I practice daily for about two hours."

Practice is an important part of the game, but tournament champion Ngo Le Van said that there are many more factors. Ngo began playing table tennis five years ago while in West Berlin.

"Table tennis not only takes a lot of practice, but it also takes muscles, concentration, skill and reflexes," Ngo said. "In fact, it takes more concentration than skill."

The next meeting of the Table Tennis Club will be 5 p.m. Tuesday in Room 256 of G. Rollie White Coliseum.

LUTHERAN STUDENT MOVEMENT

(LSM)

A FILM "THE PARABLE" WILL BE SHOWN THIS EVENING AT 7:30 P.M. IN ROOM 350A OF THE MSC FOR DISCUSSION AND SHARING.

This will also be a meeting of students interested in maintaining a local organization representing the national group of Lutheran students known as the Lutheran Student Movement. We invite anyone who feels comfortable with the Christian faith as expressed in the understanding of the Lutheran faith to join us in our local chapter of LSM. Tonight is a good time to find out what we are all about!

NAME THAT PLACE

Why look up? when you can look down to the finest basement dining east of the Brazos River. Your eyes will sparkle at the new and brightly decorated Sbis basement dining room next to the new Underground Railroad Recreation Room and Snack Bar, but we need your help in choosing a name.

A prize will be given to the winner of the name contest. At this time we have not chosen the proper gift but it will be one of good taste.

Open: 10:30 a.m.-1:30 p.m.
Monday through Friday
