Smith unopposed for Bryan mayor

RICHARD SMITH

bent, 12-year resident of Bryan, 40 years old.

Should Bryan keep the 1-cent city sales tax on utility bills? Why?
Yes. The revenue is needed for city services.

Should the city and school district tax offices be combined? No. I would favor a county-wide tax appraisal office.

What do you think of civil service for police and firemen?
I do not favor civil service for the reasons stated in the position paper adopted on March 23, 1979, by the Bryan City Council.

Should Bryan have a private ambulance service, a city service, or cooperate in a county wide service? Why?

A city operated ambulance would be best.

PEYTON WALLER

Should Bryan keep the 1-cent city sales tax on utility bills? Why?
Yes, so that all citizens may participate in the cost of city government.

Should the city and school district tax offices be combined?
There should be some sort of tax office consolidation to avoid duplication of services I have suggested city and county offices.

What do you think of civil service for police and firemen?
I am against civil service for any group — it simply creates waste.

Should Bryan have a private ambulance service, a city service, or cooperate in a county wide service? Why?

We have tried to get a county wide service, but we have just created a city service to serve the city of Bryan and the north end of the county.

What are your pet projects, if any?

Better working conditions for our city employees who need better facilities — better quality streets — a better relationship between our electrical utility and its customers — fair taxation.
