

Foyt wins Coors 200

By DAVID BOGGAN
Battalion Sports Editor

President Carter's energy message be damned, A.J. Foyt and Gary Bettenhausen were out to have a good, high-speed time Sunday afternoon at the second running of the Coors 200.

The cat-and-mouse antics of Foyt and Bettenhausen were the main attraction of the Texas World Speedway event, which lasted slightly over 1 1/2 hours. When the checkered flag was dropped, Foyt had won his fourth race at the speedway.

The Houston native, who led in the race six times, was in command of the final six laps. But he was continually harassed by Bettenhausen, who held the lead four times in the 100-lap race. As Foyt came off of turn four and down the stretch in the final lap, Bettenhausen gave one last challenge. The two Indy cars, Foyt's Gilmore Racing Coyote and Bettenhausen's Armstrong Mould Bignotti, sailed toward the finish line side by side and Foyt took the checkered flag .03 of a second ahead of his pursuer.

"I was having problems the last five or six laps of the race," Foyt said. "I thought I had a slow leak in the right rear tire because I've had cuts in the tires before on this track. I couldn't make up my mind whether to go into pit and check it since Bettenhausen was so close, and when it got down to last four laps I decided to go for it. If I crashed, I crashed.

A.J. Foyt

"I went to the pit four times but I only had to change the tires once."

Bettenhausen led in laps 91-93 before Foyt took over for the final time.

"Somebody asked me if I was playing with Gary out there," Foyt remarked. "Well, I wish your butt would have been in that driver's seat with me if you thought I was playing. He was running strong all day."

Much of the race was run under yellow flags, slowing the lap average to 129.54 mph.

The cars were bunched under a yellow flag until the last six laps when Foyt and Bettenhausen again left the pack to make it a two-man duel.

"Yellows usually work against you but this one gave me the benefit of the doubt and helped me gamble on fuel," Foyt said. "If the yellow hadn't come out I might not have made it because I was running low."

The lead changed 11 times in the race. Of the 16 cars to start only 10 finished.

The Coors victory was the fourth major race in a row won by Foyt and it was his fourth consecutive first-place finish at the Texas World Speedway.

The third place finisher was Larry Dickson, two laps behind the leaders when the checkered flag came out. Bettenhausen's brother, Tony, finished the race in ninth place.

Frogs win one game

United Press International
FORT WORTH, Texas — The TCU Horned Frogs made Texas A&M's bid for a third consecutive Southwest Conference baseball championship almost impossible as the Frogs won one game of last weekend's three-game series. The Aggies, now 7-4 in conference, had hoped to sweep the series and stay in the running for the SWC crown.

In Friday's game, Mark Ross scattered eight hits and Texas A&M supported him with a 13-hit attack to boost the Aggies to an 8-4 Southwest Conference victory over TCU.

The game was tied 3-3 after six innings but the Aggies broke loose for eight hits in the final three innings.

Ross, 5-3, struck out nine and walked only one.

The Aggies opened the scoring with two unearned runs in the fourth inning but TCU countered in the fifth with four straight singles by Joey Key, Randal Rodriguez, Wheaton and Tommy Fling in a 3-2 lead.

Texas A&M took the lead with runs in the seventh and eighth innings and a three-run ninth.

The Aggies' Rodney Holt hit two doubles and four at-bats.

In Saturday's opener, Thurmond scattered six hits and Aggies won 8-1.

TCU scored as shortstop Brooks drove a 3-1 pitch to 365-foot centerfield fence. The Aggies answered with a shot by Mike Hurdle, and won in the third inning with two runs.

Thurmond struck out four and walked two, raising his record to 6-1. Novey, 3-2, picked up the loss.

But the Frogs would not let the nightcap, a four-run eighth inning and outstanding pitching by Dale Arnold and Combs brought TCU from an 8-6 win over the Aggies to an 8-6 win over the Aggies.

The Aggies raised their record to 7-4 in the conference and the season.

Today the Aggies host City University in a double beginning at 1:30 p.m. at Field.

All For Fun

The Women's Play Day was one of the best displays of enthusiasm and sportsmanship in the 1978-1979 school year. Seven women's units competed in a wide variety of events, from softball and jogging to water-balloons and pillow races. There was even an obstacle course complete with jumping rope, hopping in sacks and popping balloons. Quite a day in every way. The event was such a success that it will become an annual event occurring in the fall and perhaps enlarged to serve more women with plain old fashion fun. And I would like to thank all the women who participated and the dorm and unit directors who made the 1st Annual Women's Playday super. (In alphabetical order listed below.)
