Two top Aggies win Nance scholarships

Two Texas A&M University students have won the first Joseph Milton Nance Scholarships, to be used at Baylor University's College of Law.

Ronald Edward Franke, an accounting major, and Julie Elizabeth Vaughan, an economics major, received the scholarships, established by the college of law and given to high quality Texas A&M students who wish to study at Baylor's law college.

Franke and Vaughan will enter the school this fall. The scholarships are named for Dr. Joseph M. Nance, professor of history and long-time pre-law adviser at Texas A&M.

Franke, from Copperas Cove, is a Texas A&M President's Scholar. He was a Distinguished Student for three years, a Distinguished Military Student, winner of an Army ROTC-four-year scholarship and a National Merit Scholarship Finalist.

Vaughan has been a Distinguished Student for a number of semesters, a delegate to the Dallas Council on World Affairs, a member of the Pre-Law Society and a member of a number of other student organizations. She is from Mineral Wells.

Can-can girls, auction

Casino for everyone

By CATHY KIRKHAM
Battalion Reporter

There will be $154 million floating around, in and out of hands and being laid down on the table, tonight at Texas A&M University — legally.

When you walk into the Memorial Student Center starting at 7:30, $3,000 will be put in your hand for a $2.50 ticket.

Tonight is Casino Night.

"We have lots of gamblers on this campus," Minor Stanley, an assistant chairman for the casino committee, said. Kids, students, parents and grandparents, dressed in everything from tuxedos to shorts will hover around tables and wheels anxiously awaiting a chance put their money down.

This year there will be 120 guys and 140 girls dealing and tending crap tables, roulette wheels, wheels of fortune, chuck-o-luck, blackjack and the horse races, Stanley said.

The horse races will be previously filmed authentic races (no one knows who the winners are). Racing guides, telling about the horses and their odds, will be provided.

"Last year some guy put his money on a long shot and it won," Stanley said. "It about cleaned us out."

Can-can girls will perform at 8, 9 and 10 p.m., Stanley said.

Gambling will wind down at about 11, but there is plenty of other entertainment. A live band will kick in at 11:00 and the auction will last from 10 p.m. to 1 a.m.

"There will be about 80 prizes given away at the auction," he said. "The object is for everyone to be a winner and no one a loser."

Prizes will include 10 diamonds, a stereo and many gift certificates from various clothes and food establishments.

There will be all kinds of people, all kinds of entertainment, and everyone will have fun, he said.

The Texas A&M version of Las Vegas will close at about 1 a.m.

Indiana's speed limit theme: Drive to conserve energy

United Press International
INDIANAPOLIS — The state has contracted for 20 radio jingles costing about $500 each in an attempt to entice motorists to obey the 55 mph speed limit.

Attorney General Theodore Sendak announced approval of the contract Tuesday.

The jingles will be written on the theme "Drive to Conserve Energy," Sendak said.

"We've got billboards to that effect, too," said State Police Major Jerry Spence. One of the billboards — "Conservation, not Frustration" — shows a frustrated speeder who has been stopped by a policeman.
