

A Ross Volunteer, above left, comes to "kneeling attention" during their Parents Day performance. At least one spectator, above right, took refuge in a blanket to ward off the slight chill in the air. After the drill, the Volunteers double-time out of the Corps of Cadets quadrangle, right.

Photos by
Lee Roy Leschper Jr.

