

Spring Art Festival: Who says o

Musicians, craftsmen and artisans combined art, friendliness and merrymaking for the benefit of College Station's residents during the city's Art Festival Saturday. Artists showed their wares at individual booths in the city's new Oak Park, on Highway 30. Some demonstrated their crafts while a variety of music-makers performed in the background. Clint Machann, above, a guitarist and fiddler in the King's English String Band, was one of those musicians. J. R. Mathis, below, passed the time showing how he makes jewelry.

Photos
by
Lynn
Blanco

Matthew Sample samples one of the fair's culina