Computer Science Professionals

RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT

Our Data Systems Department is looking for people who thrive on solving difficult technical problems; people who would enjoy the challenge of advanced data systems project assignments in the areas of data communications, automatic test and control systems, industrial systems, and process control.

If you have a BS, MS, or Ph.D. in Computer Science we invite your inquiry. We have entry-level through management-level positions available. You will recognize some of the advantages of joining the staff of the Institute immediately; an opportunity to work at the leading edge of science developing tomorrow's digital system technology; a variety of challenging projects; association with one of the Country's leading teams of scientists and engineers; the chance to advance in salary and position based on your contributions.

The Institute is a broad based private engineering and scientific research and development corporation with a staff over 1700 and an annual research budget exceeding $60 million. We offer a salary based on qualifications and a complete benefits program. Submit your resume in confidence or inquire
