Norway aids refugees guarantees new home

United Press International
SINGAPORE — Another 26 Vietnamese refugees rescued by a Norwegian tanker headed for Singapore Tuesday with a guarantee they would be resettled in the Scandinavian nation.

The 80,000-ton Bar Bare was en route for Japan for repairs when it picked up the refugees in the South China Sea, according to the Singapore representative of the U.N. High Commissioner for Refugees.

The latest group, which has a guarantee of resettlement in Norway, included 10 children, 6 women and 10 men.

It was not immediately known whether they were from the original group of 289 who were towed away from Malaysia July 3 and cut adrift the next day in five leaky boats with little fuel or water.

Ninety-three people including 20 children, the only known survivors from the July 3 group, settled in a temporary shelter in Singapore Tuesday. They joined 763 other refugees awaiting guaranteed resettlement elsewhere, mostly in the United States.

The 93 from the American mercy vessel Sea Sweep came ashore shortly after midnight expressing gratitude for their rescue. But they were bitter over the treatment they said they had at the hands of Malaysian troops and officials.

The refugees' boat captain, Fua Hian Ming, 31, confirmed earlier reports from the Vietnamese saying they had been beaten and robbed and given little assistance during days on a Malaysian beach.

He said they had been in leaky Malaysian-supplied boats towed for 20 hours with little fuel and three pints of each and cut adrift instead taken to an Indonesian camp had been promised.

Malaysian officials have a case of mistreatment, rape will be investigated.

Malaysian Home Affairs Minister Chanzali Shafie said before departure for London on Monday Geneva Refugee Conference. "Things like that could happen we are investigating."

He said a thorough investigation had turned up no evidence to support charges that at least 10 Vietnamese women had been raped. He said almost all the alleged victims had left for resettlement elsewhere.

They are determined to go to Paris to find the woman who is a culprit, he will be taken to book.
