

Committee appointments set

Students at Texas A&M University are able to take an active role in the operation of the University.

Through membership on various committees, students are able to provide valuable input and take part in the making decisions.

Students apply for these committees, which are also include faculty members and administrators, after the spring elections.

Questions or input may be directed to the student representative on a particular committee or to Jim Pratt, University Committees Coordinator, in the Student Government Office, Room 216, Memorial Student Center, or at 845-3051. Following is a list of the 1979-80 student representatives:
