Bilingual play to be Monday

By DONNA JONES
Battalion Reporter

The award-winning Mexican-American theater company, "El Teatro De La Esperanza," will present its original play "Children" in Rudder Theater at 7:30 p.m. Monday.

The bilingual play shows the breakdown of a Mexican-American family under the pressures of poverty and discrimination.

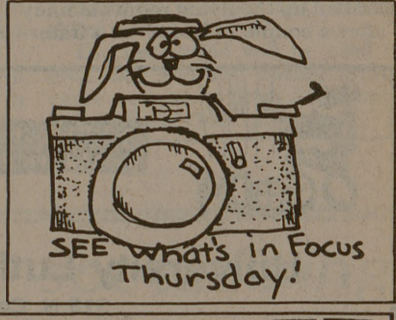

"The play has received excellent reviews from magazines all over the world," he said. "Also, 'El Teatro De La Esperanza' is regarded as one of the best Mexican-American theater companies performing today," says Julio Casas, a member of the Committee for Awareness of Mexican-American Culture. That group is co-sponsoring the play.

The 9-year-old group addresses itself primarily to the Mexican-American audience because that is its source, but its message is universal, Casas said.

"El Teatro De La Esperanza," which means "Theater of Hope" in English, seeks equality and justice for all people, regardless of ethnic heritage, he said.

The troupe has appeared at international festivals and on both American and Mexican television. "Children," or "Hijos," as the play is titled in Spanish, is sponsored by CAMAC and the MSC Arts

Funeral today for founder of Singing Cadets

Funeral services will be today at 2 p.m. for Dr. Joseph J. Woolket, father of the Singing Cadets and professor emeritus of modern languages at Texas A&M University. Woolket died Saturday in Fairview Park, Ohio, at the age of 78. Services will be at the Hillier Funeral Chapel in Bryan. Memorials may be made to the A&M Presbyterian Church or the Singing Cadets.

Dr. Woolket organized the all-male student choral group in 1938 and directed it for four years. Head of the modern language department for 19 years, he retired from Texas A&M in 1966 after 41 years of service to the University. He was named a professor emeritus that year. Dr. Woolket also served as the chairman of the 75th anniversary committee at Texas A&M.

An active member of the community, Dr. Woolket was a past president of the Bryan Rotary Club and a director of the American Red Cross.

MONEYSTORE

It's not exactly a checking account and not exactly a savings account. But it does pay bills. And it does pay interest on everyday money until you need it.

The time has come to earn interest on the everyday money you use to pay bills. Regular checking accounts don't pay interest. The MoneyStore pays you the maximum interest permitted by law until the day you need to pay bills.

And the MoneyStore pays your bills direct — after you authorize payment by telephone. No more checks to write, no envelopes to address, no stamps to buy. Just call the MoneyStore, tell us who to pay and how much and we'll pay your bills.

MoneyStore is new. It's completely safe, it's confidential, it saves time and it earns interest on everyday funds until you need them.
