

Pollution eroding cathedrals

United Press International
STRASBOURG, France — European cathedrals are seriously "ill" because pollution is eroding their structure and governments must take urgent measures to protect them, according to the findings of experts who just concluded a conference on the issue in this historic Alsatian town.

Rat farm ordered to eliminate odor
United Press International
PITTSBURGH — Allegheny County health officials have given a suburban laboratory rat farm 10 days to clean up its act.

Health Director Mark Richards issued the order to Zivic-Miller Laboratories Inc. of suburban Allison Park after nearby residents complained of odors emanating from the firm.

Department investigators discovered that rat waste stored in a sawdust-filled receptacle was the source of the odors and was a breeding area for rodents and insects, Richards said.

Zivic-Miller breeds white rats for sale to laboratories for research purposes.

Clements waiting for buffalo
United Press International
AUSTIN — Gov. Bill Clements said Tuesday that Oklahoma Gov. George Nigh is being a little slow in paying off his bet the two made over the Texas-Oklahoma game.

Nigh bet Clements a buffalo the Sooners would defeat Texas last Saturday in Dallas. Clements wagered a longhorn. Texas defeated Oklahoma 16-7.

But Nigh is having trouble with a buffalo and has told Clements to pay him when he could find one.

Clements, who has promised to barbecue the buffalo for the team to feast on, is not impressed with Nigh's tardiness in paying the bet.

"I'll help him look for a buffalo," Clements said. "I've got some mind."
