

Signs are bustin' out all over

Signs seemed to spring everywhere — from nowhere — this week as freshman elections drew nearer. Four freshman class officers and seven senators will be chosen in today's election. See related story, page 1.

Mobs try to lynch sacrificers

United Press International
RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil — A judge has ordered a small army of police to restrain angry mobs threatening to lynch two men charged with the ritual voodoo slaying of a 2-year-old boy.

Waldir de Souza Lima and Maria da Conceicao Pontes, employees of Moacir Valente, a wealthy farm owner, are accused of helping Valente and Renato Ferreira, another employee, sacrifice the boy so they could offer his blood to spirits to ensure the success of a new cement business.

The suspects have told police as many as five other child victims of black-magic rites may be buried at Valente's farm in Cantagalo city.

Last week, a mob of 2,000 people invaded the jail in Cantagalo where Valente and Ferreira were held and lynched the two men.

To prevent another lynching, policemen armed with automatic weapons and tear gas were mobilized to protect the two suspects.

Says immigrant problems ignored

Officer charges alien apathy

United Press International
WASHINGTON — An immigration officer told the attorney general Tuesday the administration cares so little about immigration problems it will not even patch a gaping hole in a cell for illegal aliens arrested in Washington.

"That hole has been there since December," deportation officer Narciso Leggs told Attorney General Benjamin Civiletti at a meeting of Justice Department employees.

"If a little hole like that gets ignored, we know that the total immigration problem has been ignored."

Leggs said the hole was carved out of a plaster wall in a cell in northwest Washington.

"An alien could virtually crawl in and out whenever he desires," Leggs said. "What is going to happen one of these days, is an alien is going to run out of there. He's going to escape, and I'm going to have to go after him and catch him."

"When that day comes, I'm not going to do it."

Civiletti, fielding questions from department employees for the first time since taking office, told Leggs, "I disagree that we're ignoring the problem."

He said five department task forces are studying immigration problems involving Mexico, and a commission is evaluating U.S. refugee policies.

"I don't intend to patch any holes myself as attorney general," he said, "but I'll see that it gets patched."

Following the meeting, Civiletti invited Leggs, who immigrated from Mexico several years ago, for a personal meeting to discuss the problems further.

"He came up and shook my hand and said, 'Hey, I'm not gonna be a do-nothing attorney general,'" Leggs said. "He said, 'Make an appointment and come in and see me.'"

Leggs contended during the public meeting that President Carter did not bring up the illegal alien problem in his September talks with Mexican President Jose Lopez Portillo because Carter "wants the brown vote."

Later, Leggs said any decision by Carter to toughen enforcement or relax enforcement of immigration laws will be unpopular in some circles.

As a result, Leggs said, the immigration service is in a demoralizing bind. It is assigned to stop illegal immigration, but administration policy and manpower limits "make it impossible to enforce the law."

"Carter knows we can't stop the illegal immigration," Leggs said. "I say, let's control it."

He suggested letting illegals enter the United States for a limited period to take jobs others do not want.

Peace Prize cash tax-free, will aid poor

United Press International
NEW DELHI, India — Mother Teresa's Nobel Peace Prize money will be free from India's income tax, one of the stiffest levies in the world.

Officials said Monday Mother Teresa, who won the 1979 peace prize last week for her long service in the slums of Calcutta, will not have to pay a tax on the cash prize of $193,000 that is part of the award.

Officials said the Indian income tax law provides for tax exemptions of cash awards for literary, scientific and attainments from work for the public welfare.

Mother Teresa has said she will spend the money on building homes for destitutes and lepers.

PROCLAMATION FOR A UNITED NATIONS DAY OF SHAME

Whereas, the United Nations has never condemned the Communist tyrants for assaulting religious freedom, destroying the sanctity of the family, abrogating property rights, abolishing free elections, or murdering tens of millions, and

Whereas, the UN did condemn the United States in 1975 for maintaining military bases in Guam, and in 1976 for importing nickel and chrome from anti-Communist Rhodesia, and

Whereas, the United States has only one vote in the UN General Assembly, while the Soviet Union has three (USSR, Byelorussia and the Ukraine), and

Whereas, America's taxpayers pay twenty-five percent of the UN regular budget, more than sixteen times the amount that a majority of the member nations collectively contributes, and

Whereas, the money Americans "contribute" to the UN has not been used to support American ideals of true human rights and freedom, but instead has been used to suppress freedom and glorify tyrants, and

Whereas, in 1961, the UN troops in the Congo massacred civilians, bombed hospitals, destroyed churches and slaughtered women and children, and

Whereas, in 1971, the UN expelled the government of Free China from its membership, and welcomed instead Communist Chinese tyrants who have murdered millions of their fellow Chinese, and

Whereas, just this year, the United Nations Development Program has approved a $15 million aid program for these same Communist Chinese, and

Whereas, two groups affiliated with the terrorist Palestine Liberation Organization (the Special Unit on Palestinian Rights and the Committee on the Exercise of the Inalienable Rights of the Palestinian People) have been receiving funds from the UN and

Whereas, UNICEF (which claims to help needy children) has issued medical combat packs to terrorists entering Rhodesia, and

Whereas, far from being a meaningless debating society, the UN is actually the formal framework for a one-world government, and

Whereas, the United States should maintain its sovereignty and freedom, and should not allow the UN to acquire control over its citizens,

BE IT THEREFORE RESOLVED that the United States should get out of the United Nations, and that the UN anniversary on October 24, 1979 should be proclaimed a United Nations Day of Shame.
