Looking for a place to ghost?

Aggies celebrate Halloween

Halloween is even better than Christmas. It's the one holiday of the year when you can forget you're supposed to be "grown up" and have all the fun you missed when you were a kid.

Better yet, you can do whatever you want behind the guise of a mask or costume. Aggies are about the best Halloweeners around — it just comes naturally.

So drag out your Dracula teeth, your monster claws and the rest of your costume and get ready for the festivities.

There's a lot going on for the "Big Kids" on campus.

A Pumpkin Carving Contest will be held by Rudder Fountain at noon, Oct. 31. Sponsored by the MSC Arts and Crafts Committee, first prize is a $25 gift certificate from TJ's.

Sign-up deadline is Tuesday in Room 216, MSC. There is a 50c entrance fee and pumpkins will be auctioned at the end of the contest.

Hart Hall will scare the daylight out of you with their annual Haunted House. This event will be held Oct. 30.

The Commons will have their annual Halloween Dance
