Farm Bureau supports agricultural education

We believe the future belongs to those who prepare for it

Farm Bureau works for agriculture on three fronts:

1. To increase economic opportunity—through effectiveness in public affairs (policy development and legislative activities).
2. To strengthen farmers' competitive position in the marketplace—through marketing programs, commodity activities, market expansion.
3. To control production costs—through group purchasing (tires, batteries, and tillage tools), insurance protection (fire, life and casualty), group insurance (medical care).
