Arsonist torches Iranian's store

United Press International
DALLAS — Fire department investigators said Tuesday arson was the cause of a fire which resulted in $30,000 worth of damage at a clothing store owned by an Iranian.
Dallas Fire Department officials said someone pried open the back door of Mansor's International, owned by Mansor Morid, and doused clothing with a flammable liquid. The fire smoldered a few hours before igniting.
"The business was closed at the time and it appears it (the fire) had some help," a Fire department spokesman said.

Officials said the arsonist painted "go home sand niger (sic)" and "this is just the start" on the inside walls with black spray paint.
No injuries were reported but Fire Capt. Jerry Chambers said there was $5,000 worth of building damage and $25,000 in content damage.
"We've determined it was arson. There was a lot of heat buildup and smoke and apparently the fire had flashed," Chambers said. Burned debris from the building was sent for analysis.
"This is the first of many" was written on the building in black spray paint.

Police spokesman Bob Shaw said the fire would not result in a special protection for Iranians from harassment resulting from the hostage situation in the U.S. Embassy in Tehran.
Morid said he had not been threatened prior to the fire but another Iranian, Abis Bagheri, said his restaurant had been vandalized and he would increase security at his establishment.
"We're very, very concerned," said Bagheri, a naturalized American. "It's affected our business. I hope that the public doesn't look at us any differently."

Houston cops get union charter

United Press International
HOUSTON — The Houston Police Patrolmen's Union has received an AFL-CIO charter which a union official said was the first in Texas.
"This is the first charter in the state of Texas and I'm sure there's going to be more," Ed Kiernan, president of the 70,000-member International Union of Police Associations, said Monday.
The HPPU was formed last month by officers who claimed the older Houston Police Officers Association had not aggressively pursued higher police salaries. The HPPU is not recognized as a bargaining agent because it contains only 300 of the city's estimated 3,000 officers.
