City offers penny for titles of cars

United Press International
MILWAUKEE — The city is offering a penny for your car.

Preparing for winter snows, city officials have offered to tow away unwanted cars. They'll pay a penny for the title.

"We're trying to remove as many cars now as we possibly can, rather than waiting until the middle of winter and having to remove the same car," said Louis Miller, superintendent of the Bureau of Municipal Equipment.

So far no one has taken the city up on the offer.
