

A&M risks unbeaten record on the road against SMU

By TONY GALLUCHI

Texas A&M takes its once-tested, unblemished SWC record of 3-0 to Dallas tonight for the first of four tough road games in the quest of the school's 10th basketball championship.

The Aggies have always had trouble winning in Dallas. In fact they haven't in four years. This year promises to be no easier as the Mustangs of coach Sonny Allen return all but one starter from last year and add two of the most looked at newcomers in the Southwest Conference in JC-transfer Ollie Hoops and freshman Dave Piehler.

"That's an important ballgame for us," said Aggie head coach Shelby Metcalf. "Arkansas sure kept the pressure on yesterday (beating Texas 55-50 in Austin).

"We're gonna put Rynn (Wright) on (Brad) Branson. Branson's 6-10 but he's also very strong and Rynn can stand there and muscle with him. If Rynn gets into foul trouble then we have two options — we can either put Rudy (Woods) on him or we can use Claude (Riley).

"Then they have Harris (Richard), he's a sound, all-around player. We'll start Rudy on him. And of course Billy Allen gives us fits and that's a problem for us because he's so quick and he's got good size. Goff will start on him. Tyrone (Ladson) will be able to give us some relief there. If we have both Tyrone and Goff on 6-4 (Phil) Hale. Britton will start out on Hale. At the other forward they've started Hoops and Piehler and (Gordon) Welch has played there. Vernon (Smith) will start the game on Johnnie James, the one they started there last night. They got quite a few people they bring in to change their lineup.

"It's so easy to get up there and get to running with them. They'll work the zone press on you. We've just got to be patient with them."

The zone is something the Aggies have been seeing more of lately.

"It's not gonna cause us trouble. Minnesota had a better zone but, the thing is, sometimes they (SMU) a tendency to give a feeling of open and you'll be a little further than a good percentage shot. main problem will be stopping break and the second thing is, ling the press. Whip those two and you have a good chance of ing them.

"If we can just get that good on the boards we can put some back in. LaSalle Thompson had 25 points up there (against) and I know he's not as active on the boards as Rudy."

Game time is 7:10 p.m.

Lemons says Hogs will win title

There are two teams currently tied for the lead in the Southwest Conference and Texas coach Abe Lemons has already cast his vote for which one he thinks is going to stay there.

"I think Arkansas is going to be first in the conference," said Lemons. "They are just a better ball club than we are. I don't know how you can sum it up better than that."

Lemons' opinion came following Arkansas' 55-50 victory over Texas in Austin — the second straight year the Razorbacks have defeated the Longhorns in the Super Drum.

The victory boosted Arkansas into a first-place tie with Texas A&M at 3-0 with Texas Tech a half step back at 3-1. Every other team in the conference has at least two league losses.

Arkansas, employing a rarely-used zone defense, hit its customary 50 percent from the field while limiting Texas to only 39 percent.

"This was the worst I've ever seen Texas shoot," said Arkansas' Alan Zahn, who helped the Hogs to a 10-point halftime lead. "We went to a zone with about seven minutes left in the first half and stayed with it. It's the most zone I've played since I've been here."

Although Texas came within four points early in the second half and late in the game, the Razorbacks made the key baskets when they had to.

In losing its second game at home this year Texas fell to 2-2 in league play along with the Houston Cougars.

Houston overcame an eight-point deficit at home against SMU and overwhelmed the Mustangs in the second half to pick up a 96-81 triumph. The Mustangs and the Cougars scored more points in the first half — SMU led at that point, 60-52 — than Arkansas and Texas did in their entire game.

Baylor, 1-2, won its first league game last Saturday night, whipping Rice, 73-63, and TCU lost its fourth SWC contest in as many starts — falling to Texas Tech, 84-65. Tech scored the first 15 points of the game in 15 attempts.

Texas A&M took last Saturday after its key, three-point home victory over Texas Tech earlier in week.

Arkansas center Scott Hastings who had been scoring more than points with regularity, was a target of Texas' defense in the Saturday showdown so Zahn and Reed were given the task of hitting from the outside.

The two combined for 10 goals in 15 attempts. "Against Texas you have to be from the perimeter," said Arkansas coach Eddie Sutton. "And we especially had to in this game because they were so aware of Hastings."

Arkansas now returns home games on Tuesday night against Baylor and Saturday evening against Houston. Texas A&M returns to action Tuesday night making it could be a tough road trip to SMU and then going to Rice on Saturday.

Texas Tech figures to win this week since they play at home against both Rice and Baylor.

What We Do

The TI Facilities Planning and Engineering organization is a group of professionals responsible for layout, planning, and designing the building and facilities systems necessary for manufacturing and testing TI products around the world. Current expansion programs involving multi-national assignments provide challenging growth opportunities in all disciplines.

Facilities Engineering includes designing of systems such as:

Air conditioning and ventilating.
Electric power and lighting.
Process manufacturing equipment installations.
Special process utility generation and distribution facilities such as purified water, exotic gases, high pressure fluids.

Facilities Planning includes:

Responsibility for facility appearance through development of building layouts and detail occupancy plans.
Working with operating groups to develop moving and rearrangement projects to solve space problems due to company growth, improve material flow and manufacturing operations.
