

Brazos Savings now pays

8.72%

(effective annual yield)

on Deferred Compensation Savings Plans for State of Texas employees.

*No Federally insured financial institution pays more.
(But many pay less)*

Brazos Savings has raised the interest rate on Deferred Compensation Savings Plans for State of Texas Employees from 8 percent to 8.25 percent. The new, effective annual yield on these accounts is 8.72 percent (beginning January 1, 1980).

Existing accounts will automatically receive the higher yield. All new accounts will be opened at the higher rate—without any waiting period. Minimum deposit is only $25.

Deferred Compensation Plans at Brazos Savings have no fees, no loads, no commissions and no penalties for rollover or withdrawal.

Call Hazel Holland, vice president (779-2800). She'll answer your questions on how a Deferred Compensation Savings Plan can reduce your current taxes—and build savings for the future.
