

Heiden wins third gold in 1,000-meter

United Press International
LAKE PLACID, N.Y. — Eric Heiden added the third notch to his gold medal belt Tuesday, winning the men's 1,000-meter speed skating event in an Olympic record time of 1:15.18 and giving the United States its fifth medal of the Winter Olympics.

All five American medals — three golds by Heiden and two by Leah Poulos Mueller — have come in speed skating.

With a brisk wind blowing and the temperature a mild 30 degrees, Heiden, a pre-med student from Madison, Wis., went off first, paired with Canada's Gaetan Boucher. Under the urging of the Olympic Oval crowd chanting, "Eric, Eric," Heiden took a step closer to an unprecedented five gold medals in Winter Olympic competition. He goes after No. 4 Thursday in the 1,500-meter.

Boucher finished in 1:16.68 to win the silver medal. Frode Roenning of Norway and Vladimir Lobanov of the Soviet Union tied for the bronze medal at 1:16.91.

Leah Mueller's husband, Peter, who won the event in the 1976 Olympics at Innsbruck, finished fifth in 1:17.11. Mueller was paired with Soviet Sergei Khlebnikov, who was considered a factor coming in, but was a disappointment at 1:17.96.

Craig Kressler of Midland, Mich., the other American in the field, finished well behind at 1:18.37.

Boucher, 22, of Charlesbourg, Quebec, has had the misfortune of living during Heiden's reign of power skating. He has won virtually every 1,000-meter silver medal speed skating has to offer this season — regularly finishing about one second behind Heiden.

Heiden, 21, has said all along he isn't all that concerned about winning the five golds.

To tell you the truth, when people say that (he'll win five golds), it goes in one ear and out the other ear," he said. "The big thing for me is that I want to skate well. And if I feel I've given 100 percent and somebody beats me, I'm still happy with that because there's nothing I can do. He's the better skater.

"If I win and I felt I haven't done my best, I'd be pretty bummed out."

Heiden has thus far been the brightest spot in an otherwise dismal American effort at the Winter Games. Prior to Tuesday, he had already won the 500-meter sprint and shattered the record in the 5,000-meter by more than 20 seconds. He is favored to win the 1,500 Thursday and the 10,000 Saturday.

Heiden's three medals give him more Olympic golds than any American speed skater since the 1932 Games and he is the individual leader in the Games this year.

His fans, which include many young females, cheer loudly for him on every lap and the American flags seem to wave more enthusiastically when he competes. If he is experiencing any added pressure because of the attention and the expect-tations, he is trying to

believes that Heiden will increasingly difficult to adjust to the longer distances. "It's very difficult to adjust to these distances and be expected in every event," Holmstrom of the European athletes, "but some of the Americans are only in one or two events, and only one who is competing events."

Okies lose bid on gridders

United Press International
Oklahoma and Oklahoma State have apparently lost their respective bids to sign Tulsa All-American line-backer Jeff Leiding, who has announced he will attend the University of Texas.

Leiding announced on a Tulsa television station late Tuesday he would sign with the Longhorns.

Wednesday is the day high school seniors are to sign binding national letters of intent to play football.

Youngstown, Ohio, quarterback Dan Cavanaugh has indicated he has vetoed the possibility of playing football in Oklahoma and will sign with Pittsburgh, the Oklahoma Journal reported.

Another top player, Jerome Ledbetter of Muskogee, is reported to still be considering the University of Texas, the Journal said.

Coweta tight end Ricky Bryan and Ardmore line-backer Thomas Benson reportedly have narrowed their choices to OU and OSU. Stillwater line-backer Jackie Shipp said he will announce today whether he will attend OU or UCLA.

Pirate debates Astro trade

United Press International
HOUSTON — Bill Robinson will remain a Pittsburgh Pirate unless he wants to play for the Houston Astros under the terms of his present Pirates contract, according to Astros' President Tal Smith.

Both Smith and Robinson, the righthanded slugger who believes he can start at first base for the Astros, appear willing to make the trade that would send pitcher Joaquin Andujar to the Pirates.

"I'm still willing to go to Houston, but not under these circumstances," Robinson said by phone from his New Jersey home.

"We told them we would accept his 1980 contract and then assess his performance during the season," Smith said. "But we are not going to renegotiate now."

Pirates General Manager Harding Peterson has approved the deal. "I have no further plans to try to trade him," Peterson said of Robinson.

The Pirates part-time player would become a free agent after this season, and he sought to have the Astros guarantee any future contract.

Smith refused, saying, "This wasn't a trade we simply had to make. We have about nine candidates for first base and I'm sure we've already got people who can handle the position quite well."

Saints say no to 'Hollywood'

United Press International
NEW ORLEANS — Thomas "Hollywood" Henderson, the ousted Dallas line-backer who is like a man without a country, has tried to convince New Orleans coach Dick Nolan he is worth the No. 1 draft choice the Cowboys want for trading him.

Nolan says he isn't buying. "I don't know what I have to do to get here," Henderson said after a two-hour visit with Nolan. "Right now, the No. 1 draft choice seems to be the big thing holding up a deal."

But Nolan said Monday that even though the Saints need plenty of defensive help, they will not surrender anything close to a No. 1 for Henderson.

"A No. 1?" Nolan asked. "No, not from me. I know that he wants to play and he's a fine athlete, but right now a No. 1 is out of the question."

Henderson was fired by Cowboy coach Tom Landry for mugging on the sidelines during a nationally televised loss to the Washington Redskins last season. Landry recently refused to allow Henderson to rejoin the Cowboys.

Henderson told Nolan during the meeting that he would be a great addition to the club. "I can play the flex defense. I know the flex defense well. This is the only team besides the Cowboys that plays the flex."

Nolan has hinted the Saints would begin negotiations at no higher than a No. 3 choice for Henderson.

"He's always had the ability," Nolan said. "That's never been the question. But whether or not he wants to devote himself to the job was the only question in my mind since the situation with Dallas came up."
