Stenmark wins giant slalom for his first Olympic gold

United Press International WILMINGTON, N.Y. — On its face, it seems ridiculous to hold the first men's giant slalom run one day and the race for the Olympic gold medal the next. But Ingemark Sten-mark made the 24-hour wait worth-

The man called the "silent Swede" produced a dynamic, almost acrobatic run Tuesday, powering past Liechtenstein's Andreas Wenzel to claim his first Winter Olympic gold

"It is a great feeling," said Sten-mark, in an unusually talkative mood. "I really wanted this race. It is the one giant slalom I had not won.' The victory extended his winning streak in the GS to an incredible 15 going back to the start of the 1978 World Cup season.

The Swede so dominated the second-day run only one skier, Switzerland's Jacques Luethy, finished after Monday's competition to finish Stenmark, meanwhile, jumped from third to win the gold with a time of 1:20.25 Tuesday, and a combined total of 2:40.74. First-run leader Wenzel dropped to second, taking the silver in 2:41.49. Austria's Hans Enn claimed the bronze in 2:42.51. Speaking in his native Swedish, then in English and German, Stenmark said he was surprised to be greeted by King Carl Gustaf of Sweden at the finish.

Stenmark, climbed from 12th place

'He congratulated me," Stenmark said. But, asked what else the king said, Stenmark replied, "The rest of the conversation was just between Stenmark had ignored the fans and reporters after the first day of competition, then snapping back, "You always want to know what happened when I'm not first.

But he turned accessible following his victory, saying, "I didn't want to answer questions yesterday because I wanted to concentrate on today's Phil Mahre of White Pass, Wash., was the top American, in 10th place with a time of 2:44.33. His twin brother, Steve, finished tied for 15th, another 61 of a second back. Cary Adgate of Boyne City, Mich., and Pete Patterson of Sun Valley, Idaho, both fell.

"I'd have to say I'm disappointed," said Phil Mahre. "But I'll be better in the slalom Friday. That's been my best World Cup race all year.'

Wenzel said, "I lost the race at the top. I had trouble there yesterday but I was able to get back ahead because the others had problems on the bottom. But today I knew if they skied the race well all the way down, they'd beat me.

Wenzel's second-place finish put him in the running for a combined medal, awarded by the International Ski Federation but not part of the Olympic ceremony.

> Austria's Leonhard Stock, winner of the downhill and a 26th place finisher in the GS, led the combined standings with 39.59 points, while Wenzel was second with 40.83 and Phil Mahre third with 46.99. Wenzel and Mahre were expected to finish 1-2 in the combined following the slalom, Stock's weakest event.

The next day, the depressed and confused teen-ager found himself laying in a hospital bed with two rup-There's an old saying which says, "Life is full of its ups and downs."

Kerry Lacaze, a freshman diver for the Texas A&M swim team, is one tured discs, a fractured vertebra, whiplash and several cuts and

Bad luck doesn't hurt

Lacaze diving skill

Lacaze recalls that fateful night and said, "I was riding in the front seat and I turned around to talk to the people in the back. The girl in the back seat screamed, and when I turned around, the car had already run off the road and we were about to hit a tree. I raised my arms to cover my face and then we hit.

Lacaze underwent surgery to repair his back and was confined to a bed for about a month. Half a year later, he found himself struggling to walk and doctors told him he would probably never be able to dive again.

Lacaze said, "When the doctor told me I couldn't dive anymore, it made me more determined to want to dive. I realized the feeling handicapped people experience of not being active and not able to do the things you want to do.'

While laying in the hospital bed, Lacaze decided that once he got well, he would never again neglect or abuse athletic talent and would continue to improve himself.

Fortunately, he kept that promise because it was his courage to continue diving that got him to Texas

Dean Hollingsworth, the Texas

through Natchitoches one saw Lacaze practicing his ter a lengthy conversation quick meal, Lacaze found in the verge of attending Ter In December of 1979, came back to College Sta Hollingsworth and talked Swimming Coach Mel Nas diving for Texas A&M. Nas August took over a swimm ram that didn't have any offered Lacaze a scholar since then he has becomes of a success story.

Lacaze enrolled at Texas this semester and since b already won three diving m has a chance to qualify forth Nationals in Boston, Mass

The ironic thing about his that he excells in the three diving events, yet he is uppractice on the three-meter.
Texas A&M because of pur

"When we have a home Lacaze said, "we dive of a meter board because the pol 10 feet deep. We seldom di three-meter board because bottom.

Lacaze feels he has the pote become one of the top 10 the nation in a couple of year

MSC AGGIE CINEMA "AUDIENCES WILL SIMPLY CHERISH

'BREAKING AWAY.'

The Corps of Cadets gets its news from the Batt.

The pleasures of this warm, funny movie extend the plot...with a tart affection and a truthfulness that are very refreshing." Richard Schickel, TIME MAGAZINE "Fast, funny and very fresh...superb performances."

BREAKING AWAY

FRIDAY Feb. 22 7:30 & 9:45 pm

SAT. Feb. 23 7:30-Thea. $1.25 with TAMU I.D.

Win a 10-Speed Bike From Whites Auto Store Register at any Showing of BREAKING AWAY

You must present a ticket to register

Thanks to you, I still have a home. For over 30 years, Smokey has been asking you to be careful with fire. During that time, you've helped cut he number of careless fires in half. So from Smokey Bear and all of us who live in the forest, thanks for istening. And keep up the good work.

By JOHN BRASHER

person who has had his share of both.

Natchitoches, La., a small town 70 miles south of Shreveport. When he was three years old, his mother was seriously crippled from an automobile accident, and she died five

Lacaze said times were rough after the death of his mother and credits his father for keeping Lacaze, his two sisters, and one brother together

"My father," Lacaze said, "was one hell of a man and I really admire him. He accepted the death of Mom and took on the responsibilities of he began diving at the age of seven.

that focuses on the individual. It also makes me feel good both mentally and physically. It's a personal accomplishment, and it makes my dad feel found in diving was taken away from him when the diving team in Natchitoches broke up. For three years,

Lacaze ignored athletics and didn't do much of anything except go to Lacaze. As though history would repeat itself, Lacaze, age 15 at the time, was seriously injured when the car he was riding in slammed head-

Once again however, fate fell upon

At the age of 12, the happiness he Lacaze found his place in life when

'I enjoy diving because it's a sport

during that trying period.

years later.

proud of me.

on into a tree.

Lacaze was born and raised in

A&M's football signees

A list of players signing national scholarship agreements with Texas A&M University. High school players who change their mind after signing national letters of intent forfeit a year of eligibility.

TEXAS A&M

Jim Beautrow, WR, 6-3, 225, Santa Barbara (Calif.) JC; Robbie Beavers, TE, 6-2, 225,

Battalion Classifieds Call 845-2611

Beaumont Charlton Pollard, Greb 6-1, 200, Abilene Cooper, Steve & 205, Dallas White; Jerry Bullit, Il El Paso Andress; Ken Choyce, L Houston Jesuit; Larry Edmondoa Ranger JC; Bubba Hill, RB, 6-0, 18 John Elkins, QB, 6-2, 190, Bayton mit Foster, J. 6-3, 230, Bean St.

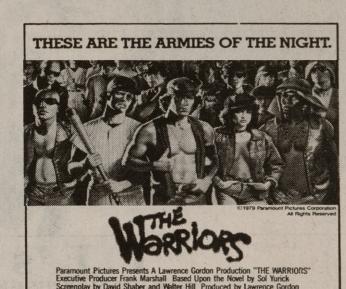

John Elkins, QB, 6-2, 190, Baytosi mit Foster, L, 6-3, 230, Bean lif Fuller, DB, 6-2, 190, Dallas Rose Thomas Graham, LB, 6-3, 25 Spring: John Kellen, TE, 6-2, 28 Ricky Kyle, TE, 6-3, 230, Dibol, li son, L, 6-5, 240, Dallas White, TE, 6-3, 225, Houston Kashmen, L, 6-2, 220, Dallas White, Aubreyl 6-3, 240, Kerrville; Kenneth Ree 230, Pittsburg.

6-3, 240, Kerrville; Kenneth Ress 230, Pittsburg. Tommy Robison, L, 6-5, 250, 6st land; Thomas Sanders, RB, 6-1, 186 Jeff Sciba, L, 6-2, 220, Pasadera Br Smith, K, 6-2, 235, Texas City, Naiman, L, 6-4, 235, Hou. Scarbon Stuard, K, 6-4, 175, Abilene Cope Thompson, L, 6-3, 246, Contra Cope JC; Greg Williams, QB, 6-1, 180, January Williams, WR, 6-1, 180, Ma

FRI. & SAT. FEB. 22 & 23

MIDNIGHT THEATER

> $1.25 with TAMU ID

SUNDAY FEB.24 7:30 — Theater

ADVANCE TICKETS AVAILABLE MSC BOX OFFICE MONDAY — FRIDAY 9am - 4pm TICKETS ALSO AVAILABLE 45 min. before showtime

"Behind Skaggs & McDonalds" OPEN 10-10

846-17