Iranian escapees warned

United Press International
FORT WORTH - Computer-nate H. Ross Perot said he is into an Iranian prison last week notice of the breakout he ordered to free them.

Prior to Tuesday night's a country club dinner, Perot little about the Feb. 11, 1979, mando operation he organized free two of his Electronic Data-tems employees jailed by the revolutionary government.

Perot said prison guards aply thought he was a U.S. official and allowed him to visit employees Paul Chiappone, Bill Gaylor, who had been oned seven weeks.

Perot told the men his 15-member team, composed mostly of E employees with military experience would cause a riot. He wanted to stay in their cells until they had abandoned their posts.

When the riot started, the rescued Gaylor and Chiappone and took them to Istanbul, Turkey.

Scientists venting hazardous

United Press International
HARRISBURG, Pa. - The osed venting of radioactive material now trapped inside the Three Island nuclear plant could pose a public health hazard, scientists representing a local anti-nuclear say.

The scientists, including Morgan, who for 29 years is director of the federal government nuclear research lab at Oak Tenn., said the risk of cancer accelerate with accumulated even low-level radiation.

Another scientist and cancer expert, Bruce Molholt of the Interest Law Center in Philadelphia said the proposed controlled release of 57,000 curies of krypton is not permitted because of the ceptibility of human organs to because of exposure to krypton.

The federal Nuclear Regulatory Commission is considering a commendation for the approval the proposal to vent the radionuclide from the plant.

Harold Denton, director of tor regulation at the NRC, has local officials the health effect of proposed venting would be "a cule."

Union sues Coca Cola

United Press International
GENEVA, Switzerland - unions launched international action against Coca Cola Wednesday half of workers at the company plant in Guatemala.

The International Union of and Allied Workers Association (IUF), based in Geneva, is worldwide action protesting Cola's failure to replace its holder in Guatemala, Texas nessonman John Trotter.

The IUF charges Trotter "violent repression of trade union Coca Cola, the IUF said, to get Trotter to sell his license says it is not responsible for the policies of its license holders.

IUF action against the company began Wednesday when production in Sweden stopped for three

Chase cuts lending rate

United Press International
NEW YORK - The Chase hattan Bank Wednesday cut prime lending rate a quarter point. 19.75 percent.

The reduction was the first key lending rate in months. At the same time, Chase's lending rate to small business half point to 17.75 percent.

Chase, the country's third bank, said the cut in the prime lending rate was appropriate because interest rates generally have declined recently.

The bank said since the future look for market conditions to remain, the movement of the prime in the immediate future also is certain.
