The first ceremony is today at 2 p.m. Degrees will be presented to candidates from the Graduate College and undergraduate candidates

The speaker for this ceremony is Dr. Haskell Monroe, dean of faculties and associate vice president for academic affairs, who will be leaving Texas A&M this summer to become president of the University of Texas-El Paso.

The third ceremony is at 9 a.m. Saturday. Degrees will be given to undergraduate candidates from the Colleges of Agriculture, Liberal Arts and Science and to graduates of Texas A&M University at Galveston.

Drive-in fire 'definitely set, under probe'

Firemen are still investigating the cause of the fire which destroyed the old Circle Theatre drive-in movie screen Tuesday afternoon.

Inspector Ron Garrison said, "It was definitely a set fire, but it's still unknown if it was intentional or not." The drive-in was located on Nagle Street and was scheduled to be torn down later.

The fire started at 2:35 p.m. around the bottom of the screen and engulfed it entirely.

The blaze lasted about 20 minutes, and Fire Marshal Harry Davis said the only potential danger was to a row of nearby houses.

Garrison said the case will remain open.

'78 flu volunteers checked

More than half of the student volunteers vaccinated against the Russian flu in 1978 responded to a check-up call at Beutel Health Center, Dr. John Quarles, assistant professor of medicine, said Monday.

Fourteen hundred students were given two Russian flu vaccines, and 700 received placebos, a non-vaccine substance.

The check was made to count the amount of antibodies remaining in the students' blood samples, Quarles said.

Corps plans commissioning, Final Review for Saturday

Saturday will be a busy day for members of the Corps of Cadets, with Final Review for the entire Corps and commissioning of the senior members accepting military positions.

The Corps will step off from the Quad at 2:30 p.m. to march to the main drill field on Old Main Drive.

Final review, in which 269 senior members bid farewell to the Corps, will begin at 3:30 p.m. During the first review Gen. Bennie L. Davis, commander of air training command at Randolph Air Force Base, will review this year's Corps of Cadets as led by Cadet Col. William B. Dugat. After the first review, freshmen will change into sophomore uniforms, sophomores will change into junior uniforms, and juniors will put on their senior boots for the first time.

Seniors will then assemble as the reviewing party for the second review. Kenneth B. Cross, the new cadet colonel, will lead the second review. Other new corps officers will also assume their 1980-1981 positions at that time.

Preceding Final Review is the commissioning of senior cadets, which begins at 1:30 p.m. in G. Rollie White Coliseum. Commissioning documents will be presented to 122 graduating cadets by Davis.

Davis will then swear the commissioned officers into service. All will be commissioned as second lieutenants, except naval cadets, who will enter the service as ensigns.

Dale Laine Jr., staff assistant Office of the Commandant, said most of the cadets have already been given their orders. Some will enter active duty in May, while others will be delayed entry dates.

Laine gave the breakdown of cadets receiving commissions as 52 in the Army, 40 in the Air Force, 11 in the Marines and 19 in the Navy.

Not all seniors who leave the Corps at Final Review will receive commissions, because some have not completed their degree plans and others have decided not to pursue military commissions.
