Magazine poll gives edge to Carter, Reagan

United Press International
AUSTIN — The last of five Texas Monthly presidential preference polls showed President Carter leading the Democratic side and former California Gov. Ronald Reagan leading the Republican side in Texas.

The poll, conducted April 16-19, was based on surveys of 1,000 registered voters in Texas.

The president led Kennedy by 69.1 percent to 22.1 percent. Reagan had a more commanding lead over Texan George Bush, 75 percent to 21.4 percent.

In the general election in November, the magazine said, a Carter-Reagan contest would be a virtual tie, while Carter would beat Bush. However, the poll showed, both Reagan and Bush could easily beat Kennedy.
