

Up to $15 million needed

Anderson confident of funds

CHICAGO — Independent presidential candidate John Anderson says he thinks he can raise the $12 million to $15 million he will need to "sustain" his campaign.

Anderson Monday announced the appointment of a nationwide fundraising committee and met with many of its members in a daylong series of discussions.

"I think that our campaign is well on the way to obtaining between $12 million and $15 million that will be necessary to sustain this campaign," he said.

Anderson discussed a wide range of topics at a news conference, including a new major advertising campaign to "raise my profile with the voting public."

He sprinkled his statements with criticism of President Carter, Republican presidential nominee Ronald Reagan and the GOP platform.

Earlier in the day, Anderson aides filed nominating petitions with the state Board of Elections in Springfield. Although candidates need only 25,000 valid signatures to be slated on the Nov. 4 general election ballot, Anderson submitted 160,000 signatures.

"I want to do well in the state of Illinois in November and I think the petitions are a good start," Anderson said.

Referring to court challenges of his nominating petitions in other states the Illinois congressman said his aides have "made good progress on the legal front despite the efforts of the Democratic National Committee to frustrate our efforts."

"We have filed in 19 states with total electoral votes of 209," he said. "In the next two weeks, we will be filing in 19 more states with total electoral votes of 227."

Admission deadline Thursday

Thursday is the last day undergraduates can apply for admission to Texas A&M University for the fall semester. Students returning to Texas A&M, who have missed at least one long semester, fall or spring, also must apply for readmission at this time.

Two added to Silver Taps list

The names of two more Texas A&M University students have been added to the list for this fall's first Silver Taps memorial ceremony, bringing the total to seven.

The deaths of junior Mark R. Dare of Houston and senior James M. Vanderwilt of Pasadena bring the total number of student fatalities during the 1979-1980 academic year to 20, believed to be an all-time high. Nearly a month remains in the current term.

Dare, a 20-year-old junior majoring in building construction, died June 21 from injuries received in a Houston traffic accident, making him the 11th student in less than a year to die in an auto-related incident.

Vanderwilt, a 21-year-old senior in nuclear engineering, died July 20 in Pasadena after a sudden illness.

Since Silver Taps — the traditional service honoring currently-enrolled Aggies who have died — is not held between Aggie Muster on April 21 and the beginning of fall classes, all students who die during that time are included in a major ceremony in September.

The first Silver Taps of the new academic year, scheduled for Sept. 9, will also honor Gehrig D. Feuge of Rankin, Jayson G. Harris of Hamilton, Kevin D. Hanlon of Saugus, Mass., Juan X. Rijoias of Eagle Pass and Thomas H. Newman of New Braunfels.

Peruvians inaugurate new leader

LIMA, Peru — President Fernando Belaunde Terry, overthrown in a 1968 coup, began his first full day back in office Tuesday, ending 12 years of military rule in Peru.

The 67-year-old American-educated architect was sworn in Monday at a ceremony attended by American first lady Rosalynn Carter, who was to fly Tuesday to Puerto Rico.

Gen. Francisco Morales Bermudez, the leader of the former military regime, shouted "Viva Peru" as he left the presidential palace.

A few hours later, Belaunde Terry, who was rudely shoved out the back door of the palace 12 years ago by armed troops, entered it once again through the front door.

Belaunde Terry made an astonishing comeback in presidential elections last May, winning 45 percent of the popular vote in a race crowded with 15 candidates.

He said there was "no rancor" against the armed forces, but he criticized them for "uncontrolled spending" that left the nation of 17 million people in a state of "pauperization."

DEPRESSED?

People who are bothered by periodic depression may volunteer for a special program designed to teach management of depression.

Your time commitment will be minimal and will average approximately four hours over a two week period. Work will be done on an individual basis by trained counselors.
