CO-OP OPPORTUNITY IN CANCER RESEARCH

On Weds., Aug. 6, at 5:30 p.m., in Rm. 502 of Rudder Tower, representatives from the Stehlin Cancer Research Foundation (associated with St. Joseph's Hospital in Houston) will show a film on the activities of the Foundation. They will then interview students who are interested in beginning co-op with them in the Fall semester. They plan to hire 3-6 students to begin work this Fall in their formal alternating semester Cooperative Education Program. Students interested in beginning their co-op work term in the Spring, 1981, semester are also encouraged to attend.

Students majoring in BIMS, pre-med, or any of the sciences are eligible for this program. See your college coop coordinator for further information.

NOTE: In the past, the Stehlin Cancer Research Foundation only employed summer students. All students who worked for them were accepted into medical school. They are now changing their program to a formal Cooperative Education Program and hope to attract quality students.

ComEd accused of keeping false records

United Press International ROCK ISLAND, Ill. — The federal fraud and conspiracy trial of Commonwealth Edison Co., the nation's largest nuclear utility, could lead to tough security standards for the entire nuclear power industry.

Ninety prospective jurors have been summoned to the court of Chief U.S. District Judge Robert D. Morgan for Monday's opening of the case against ComEd and two ComEd employees. The trial is expected to last one to three weeks.

The defendants are accused of falsifying records and conspiring to cover up the utility's failure to comply with a Nuclear Regulatory Commission security plan for ComEd's Quad Cities Nuclear Power Station between January 1976 and April 1977.

Attorneys and utility officials say the case could set security standards for the nuclear power industry nationwide.

The Justice Department said the indictment returned against ComEd in March was the first ever returned against a nuclear power company Three months later, a more powerful indictment superceded eight counts of the original indictment addressing defense contentions that ComEd had no duty to report security infractions. Whether or not there was a legal duty to report the violations, the new indictment said, plant officials illegally falsified security records to cover them up.

The indictment said guards were ordered to falsify records by omitting reports of unes-corted visitors and unlocked and unguarded doors in the plant's protected and vital areas.
