THE BATTALION

When you need big favors you ask good friends.

When you ask good friends for a favor, you know what they're going to say. So you tell them you're moving again and then wait for the groans to stop. They may not like the idea, but you know they're going to be there. When you're finished, these people are going to deserve something special. Tonight, let it be Löwenbräu.

Löwenbräu. Here's to good friends.

Lugging a rug

Senior Ed Hauser, left, from Arlington, and Julian Garcia, a junior from Corpus Christi, hauled this load of rug up to their dorm room on a second floor of Walton Hall. The hot weather made moving pretty unbearable, but most could recuperate in their air-conditioned rooms. That's not the case with Walton residents — their second wind comes from a fan.

Greenleaf Center sponsors Hotline

The Brazos Valley Crisis Prevention Hotline, servicing the Bryan-College Station area, is still helping people overcome problems, although it has changed its sponsor and telephone number.

As of Monday, Crisis Hotline's new sponsor is Greenleaf Psychiatric Center Inc., located in Bryan. It was formerly sponsored by the Brazos Valley Mental Health Mental Retardation Center.

Crisis Hotline is manned by volunteers who "are concerned with helping people," coordinator Mary Orndorff said.

"Last year funds were cut by the Texas Department of Community Action," said Dr. Russell Dunckley, director of the MHMR-sponsored Crisis Hotline. Consequently, the service's sponsorship had to be transferred to Greenleaf Psychiatric Center and the Brazos Valley Community Action Agency, he added.

The Drug Abuse Prevention Division of the National Institute for Drug Abuse had given MHMR a grant which made the opening of a hotline possible in 1978, Dunckley said.

Services offered by Crisis Hotline include information referral and a friendly ear for problems of any kind.

Caller's concerns range from problems with being away from home for the first time to suicide attempts," Orndorff said, "and we try to refer people to the proper services or talk to them.

"We don't advertise having a 'big ear,' but that's what we do most of the time," a volunteer said. Callers are limited to 15 minutes, before they are asked to terminate the call, he said.

All possible options are explained to callers, but no single one is advocated, he said.

The most crucial hours are between 6 p.m. and 2 a.m., but there are not enough volunteers available for those hours. The phone is manned every day between 6 p.m. and 10 p.m., Orndorff said. Service during other hours is discontinuous and volunteers try to answer the phone as much as they can.

Volunteers are needed all the time and can contact Crisis Hotline at its phone number 775-3708. The Crisis Hotline's mailing address is 413 Varisco Building, Bryan, Texas 77801.
