Texas A&M tennis has come a long way from the days the team was the doormat of the conference. The team went to San Antonio to compete in the McFarland Open and came away with a respectable showing.

The Ags had two men reach the quarterfinals, two men's doubles teams got to the semifinals and two women's doubles teams reach the semifinals. One women's team played a three-hour marathon match with the eventual winners of the women's doubles division.

Reid Freeman got to the quarterfinals by defeating Raymond Berkeley of Trinity University, 6-0, 6-2; Byron Yarborough of Centenary University, 6-2, 6-2 and Kreg Yingst also of Trinity, 1-6, 6-3, 6-4. He lost in the quarterfinals to Tom Warneke of Trinity 5-7, 6-4, 6-1.

"It was a tough tournament," said Freeman. "Everybody there were solid players and we played hard to do well."

Trey Schutz also reached the quarterfinals by receiving a bye in the first round and beating Mike Mitchell of Trinity, 5-7, 6-1, 6-3 and Lee Mery, coach of the University of Houston, 7-5, 6-7, 6-1. He lost to top-seeded Carl Rickett of Texas Christian University 6-3, 6-4.

"We did very well," said Schutz. "We did not get shown up by anybody like we have in other years. This is the first year we have really held our own at this tournament." He said the Aggies played the role of spoilers by defeating many players who were ranked higher.

The women played well for the tournament with all nine of the girls who went winning in the first round. "We need to work on our singles, though," said Jan Cannon, women's coach. "We played excellent doubles but were disappointed with our singles because we did not have anybody go much further after winning the first round."

Terri Nuetze lost to Pam Hill and Lilliana Fernandez of going further in the tournament," said Cannon. "Lilliana in a good, hard match 6-2. We feel that it was chances by both losing to Pam Hill and Lilliana Fernandez to Mary Sasser of the city of Texas 7-6, 2-6, 7-5.

Pam Hill and Lilliana Fernandez played tough but were the number two Trinity team by Morris-Louise Almeida, semifinals 6-3, 6-7, 6-3.

"It was a big, quality tournament," Cannon said. "We got a lot of experience this weekend but we need a lot of work."
