Bigfoot called fake

United Press International
ATHENS, Ohio — An Ohio University zoologist, who spent several weeks in Ohio investigating Bigfoot, attributes a recent rash of sightings of the creature to "weirdo psychology." Zoologist Dr. Gerald Svendsen said evidence he has seen in Ohio was man-made and "totally fake." He said the Bigfoot footprints he saw were dug by hand.

"If people want to see something, they get it in their mind they are going to see it," said Svendsen.
