K.C. needs a lift

Phillies take game 2

United Press International
PHILADELPHIA — The Philadelphia Phillies, having operated in the National League since 1883 without a world championship, may finally have decided to wait no longer. They believe!

"This type of confidence I haven't seen before in my major league career," said Del Unser, whose pinch RBI double keyed a four-run eighth inning Wednesday night that gave the Phillies a 6-4 victory over the Kansas City Royals and a 2-0 lead in the World Series.

The Phillies sent 14 batters against Larry Gura before getting a base runner. They watched their ace lefthander Steve Carlton give up four runs. They trailed, 4-2, against a relief pitcher who could work in the off-season as an executioner. Then they won. They won!

"We knew that at the very least we would scare them to death," said Mike Schmidt, referring to the mood on the Phillies' bench entering the eighth.

Friday night they will send Dick Ruthven, 17-10, against Rich Gale, 13-9, in Game 3 in Kansas City, and if they can find a way to win two of their next five games, it is slightly frightening to think what kind of celebration could erupt in this city.

"We get the juices flowing in the dugout and it helps our nine guys on the field," said Phil's Manager Dallas Green. "I think we've become a real 25-man team."

No one could blame the Royals for wondering where this Series is headed and how long — or short — it will take to get there.

"We need a big lift emotionally," said Hal McRae. "I'm hoping our crowd can give us a shot in the arm just like the fans here have helped the Phillies."

Amos Otis, who singled and scored in a one-run sixth and doubled in two runs to cap a three-run seventh, said the Royals could regain their composure at Royals' Stadium.

"We have lost two in a row before and won two in a row before," said is going to give us a big lift. A.C.M. Trailing, 4-2, in the eighth, Dan Quisenberry, the Phillie Phanatic, showed Kansas City how to play out-hitting.

Bob Boone opened by hitting a home run to walk. Unser then batted. "We had Smith and drove a sharp line drive to the field wall for one run. I said, 'You can't do that to me!'"

"At that point the Phillies exploded," said Keith Hernandez. "The Ags followed a single by Ballesteros and a double by Schmidt. The Phillies refused to let the Royals have a lead."

The uprising handed the Phillies Carlton, who made a play to get out of a jam, and a double by Hernandez. "We can't do that to me!" said Hernandez. "We thought we were going to win the game. Quisenberry has been a hero for us all year. He just didn't get it tonight."

The Phillies may have a lead to do with that. They are all in their own minds. They want it. After all, it's a long time.

Leonard out for Duran

United Press International
NEW YORK — Challenger Sugar Ray Leonard, dubbed a "clown" by champion Roberto Duran, is determined to provide as little entertainment as possible Nov. 25 when they meet in a Louisiana Superdome rematch for the World Boxing Council's welterweight title.

Leonard, 24, was undefeated in 27 fights and reigned as the WBC welterweight champ until Duran won a unanimous decision June 20, beating Leonard by four points in a dynamic 15-round bout. The Gold Medal winner of the 1976 Montreal Olympics, known for his quickness and left jab, Leonard was criticized for adapting a slugging style against Duran, whose "Hands of Stone" have helped him win 70 of 71 fights, 55 by knockout.

"I anticipate another very tough fight, but I'll say on Nov. 25 you'll again see another one of the greatest fights in the history of boxing," said Leonard Monday at a press conference to announce the rematch. "If I start sooner, it'll be a different story. The second time around I'll throw more punches and not get behind like I did."

"I've always respected Duran's credentials and he proved he was the better man on June 20. All of his punches hurt and he hits harder than any guy I've ever fought."

When asked why he didn't jab more against Duran in Montreal, Leonard quipped: "He wouldn't let me."

Duran, wearing a black cap and sporting an earring in his right ear, appeared an hour late and wore an open beige shirt and tie. This team contrast to Leonard's play well.

lured three-piece suit. Yet, through an interpreter, Leonard proved upon his June 20 performance that he was a better fighter than Duran.

"I don't like to see Duran in a ring, I like to see boxes in my 29-year-old Panamanian intercept."

Leonard often tries to intimidate three-time heavyweight champion Muhammad Ali. "I could have a him out the last time because he was holding me, but this time one of my knock him out."

"He will have to fight me. We have had last time because he was going to kill me in Montreal." If the difficult to surprise me, I know him and he doesn't love the ball. You watch, there will be a fight in this fight."

The attitude of Don King, who is copter than the fight with Facilities Inc. Inc., is billing the bout as a "Sugar II." The fight will be shown on closed circuit television every America and via satellite every the world. There will be no work television or radio for the United States and King Adams pates tremendous interest. "I think the highest prize get better ing seats will be for this time. King, referring to the record time. top ticket price. "And in a drug this I don't think there'll be a left."

"ALL ABOUT INTEL"

Twice during the last decade, technological innovations at Intel Corporation have revolutionized the world of microelectronics—first with the semiconductor memory, then with the microprocessor computer-on-a-chip. Our business is built on this ability to introduce new technologies and products. To this end, we've been responsible for more than a dozen highly innovative products that are now industry standards, and at least seven major semiconductor fabrication processes.

Today, we are the indisputable leader in four significant product areas: semiconductor memory, memory systems, microcomputer components, and micro-computer systems. And from sales of just $4 million in 1970, we've grown to over $660 million in revenues in 1979. How did we do this in such a short period of time? With a lot of bright, dynamic, and innovative people at every level—from management to staff support.

We'd like you to be in on the excitement and the challenge. At any of our five Intel locations: Santa Clara, California; Portland, Oregon; Phoenix, Arizona; Austin, Texas; and Albuquerque, New Mexico.

Sign Up for Campus Interviews.
Our recruiting team will be on campus soon to give you a preview about careers at Intel.

If you're about to receive a degree in the following disciplines—Electrical Engineering, Computer Science Engineering, Solid State Physics, Chemical Engineering, or Materials Science—and are interested in careers in the design, manufacturing, marketing, or technical sales of Intel products; sign up now in your placement office to talk with one of our representatives on campus. Or send your resume to Intel College Relations at one of our locations in the area of your geographic preference.
