Cowboys, Chargers to battle

United Press International
IRVING — The Dallas Cowboys and San Diego Chargers meet what they refer to on the tube as "special edition of Monday night football" Sunday night and for those who prefer touchdowns to deflating it could be a special treat.

San Diego quarterback Fouts has completed 832 worth of passes in the last two years and Dallas' Danny White has his moments as well this year. So points will probably will not be a premium.

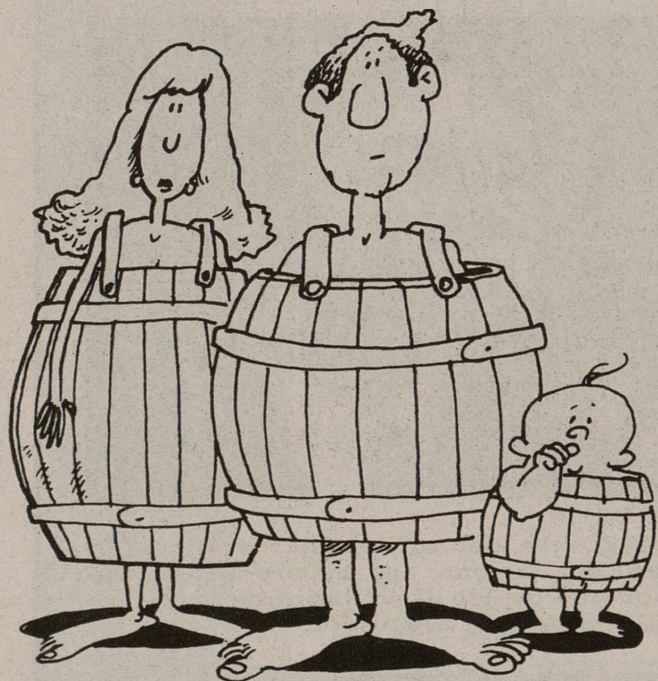

When asked whether his might need 28 points to beat Diego, Dallas coach Tom Landry replied: "That would be a good start. The game renews an old rivalry — Landry vs. Don Coryell. They matched wits for five years while Coryell was coach of the Louis Cardinals."
