Soccer squad to play Raiders

By RICHARD OLIVER

The Texas A&M University men's soccer team sets out on a tough journey Saturday. It's a journey toward respectability.

But Head Coach Telmo Franco thinks it's a trip worth taking. Nobody, however, said it would be easy.

"We have to win the rest of our games to come in second," he said Thursday night. "We (A&M) have never finished that high."

The reason A&M cannot finish even higher is the SMU Mustangs, who bowled over the Aggies last Saturday, 4-0. Now, A&M must take on a tough Texas Tech team Saturday at 2 p.m. Saturday at the Penberthy Intramural Complex.

"Definitely we have a good chance," said Franco firmly. "The information I get is that they (Red Raiders) are equal with Baylor, Texas and us. With our experience and desire, we should win. I hope we can win, anyway."

Franco, a coach who once starred as a player in Peru, took over the Aggie reins in August, and although his team's 5-3-2 record is not outstanding, the improvements are noticeable.

Against Baylor earlier this season, the Aggies pulled off a major upset in College Station by winning, 3-2. But since that victory, the Aggies have been somewhat sluggish at times, a tendency Franco writes off to a lack of team cohesiveness. This is due, he says, to the fact several members are new.

Over the Thanksgiving vacation, the Aggies will be on the road, traveling to Monterrey, Mexico for an international tournament.

Ag Sports Car Club prepares for its first 2-day Aggiecross

By RICK STOLLE

Racers from around the state will be arriving today for the biggest event in the history of the Texas A&M Sports Car Club.

The first two-day Aggiecross ever will feature 130 cars from around the state racing the clock to win trophies and awards and to determine some of the fastest cars in the state.

Preparations have been rushed as the sports car club has prepared the speedway, registered cars, made inspections and finalized plans for the event. Registration of cars has been closed, but anyone wishing to watch and work is welcome to call Jay Bittle at 693-6620 or Bill Labarge at 846-9086 to get a worker's pass.

"We need workers," said club president Chuck Schmitt. "The Speedway will not allow us to have any spectators, so the only way to watch is to be a worker."

Aggiecross is a series of three runs around the speedway track against the clock. In previous years, speeds have gotten up to 180 mph.

There are two cars on the track at the same time but at opposite sides from one another, Schmitt said. "We try to make it as safe as possibly can," he said.

Part of the safety regulations mandatory inspections of the race. The club also has a "hands off" stop brake test at the inspection.

The inspections are scheduled from 7 to 11 tonight at the Blue Inn of College Station.

The inspections will conclude Saturday at the track, which opens at 7 a.m. and will close at noon a.m., the practice runs are scheduled to begin and will continue 4 p.m.

After a two-hour break, a barbecue will be served for the er and racers. A live band and will entertain the group Saturday night.

Timed runs will begin at 8 Sunday and last until all 130 have completed three runs.

A spring Aggiecross is in the ning stages and depends upon use of the speedway.

"Cars don't have to be fast, even really fast for the driver, have a great time," said Schmitt, continued that many of the men in the club have street cars.

"Most just want to have fun the cars they have and talk cars," he said.
