Tennis team plays Saturday

By RICK STOLLE
Battalion Staff
Coach Jan Cannon's Texas A&M University women's tennis team will take on the University of Lamar Cardinals Saturday at 9 a.m. in the final home match of the fall season for the Aggs.

"I think it will be a good match," said Cannon. "Lamar has played a lot of teams tough in dual match competition."

She said among the teams that have played the Cardinals are North Texas State University, Tulane, LSU, Rice and Houston.

"I know both Rice and Houston have been beaten by Lamar," the coach said.

Two Aggies are hurt and will definitely be out of action on the A&M varsity courts. Lilita Fernandez has hurt her shoulder and will not compete. Terri Nuetze has been ill and is resting.

The players competing are: Pam Hill, Maylen Hooten, Amy Closs, Sonja Hutcherson, Laura Hanna, Mary Hise, Judy Willard and Ferol Hinkle.

The doubles teams will be Closs-Hanna, Hill-Hutcherson, Willard-Hinkle and Hooten-Hise.

"Due to injuries and illness," said Cannon, "we are going to have to play the freshmen in high positions." She said they (freshmen) played well in the SWC Fall tournament.

Hanna, Hutcherson, Closs and Hise are freshmen and have responded well to the situations they have been forced into, she said.

She went on to say the Aggs are on the mend right now. At one time or another in the past two weeks, she said, all of the girls have been out with an illness of some type.

"Colds and the flu have hit everybody," said Closs. "They are all starting to come back so I think we will do well this weekend."

Cannon said the Lamar team has five Swedes as its top six players.

"Those foreigners sure can be tough," she said. "They produce some very good tennis players in Sweden."

Basketball

SWC basketball action gets hotter for team

Here's a wrapup of SWC college basketball action Thursday night:

Southwest Texas State (68) at Rice (67)— Southwest Texas' Harold Howard scored on a 10-foot jumper with three seconds remaining and Rice's Kenny Austin missed a last-second foul shot to give Southwest Texas a 68-67 victory.

The real turnaround in the game was with 7:07 to play on a technical foul called on Rice's Donald Bennett for overguarding. Southwest Texas made both free throws, then got the ball out of bounds, and Rice's 10-point lead began to vanish.

The Bobcats had tied the game at 61 with 5:01 to play and then Howard got two consecutive baskets to put them ahead. The lead changed hands down to the last second.

Rice's Bobby Tudor hit a 15-foot jump shot with 12 seconds to play to put Rice ahead 67-66, then Howard's jump shot gave the Bobcats the final margin.

Rice is now 1-3 and Southwest Texas is 4-1.

TCU (63) at Notre Dame (79)— Senior captains Kelly Tripucka and Orlando Woolridge combined for 41 points to lift Notre Dame to a 79-63 victory over Texas Christian University.

Tripucka scored 22 points and led the Irish with 10 rebounds. Woolridge scored 19 points and sparked the Irish to an early 10-2 lead. He collected 15 of his points in the first half.

TCU sophomore guard Darrel Browder kept the Horned Frogs in the game with 12 first-half points, including five in a row before intermission, but Notre Dame held a 44-30 halftime advantage. Browder finished the game as team high scorer with 14 points.

In addition to Woolridge and Tripucka, freshman Center Joe Kleinscored 11 points and hauled in seven rebounds.

The Irish, 2-1, stormed to a 20 point advantage, 65-45, midway through the second half. TCU, 1-3, managed to pull within 11 points with two minutes remaining, but seven unanswered Notre Dame points sealed the victory.

Western Kentucky (58) at Texas Tech (68)— Texas Tech, behind the 24-point second half scoring surge of junior forward Jeff Taylor, erased a 30-22 halftime deficit and turned back Western Kentucky, 68-58.

The Red Raiders shot a paltry 33 percent (10-of-30) in the first half and could not keep pace with the taller Hilltoppers. Western Kentucky rode the shooting of 6-10 center Craig McCormack, who had six points in the final eight minutes of the first half, to their eight-point advantage at intermission.

But Taylor put on an all-around performance in the second 20 minutes of play, scoring on a variety of inside shots and outside jumpers. Taylor also had six steals and four rebounds in the decisive second half.

Joining Taylor in double figures for Tech were Clarence Swanegan and Steve Smith with 10 points each. McCormack paced the Western Kentucky attack with 18. Mike Reese chipped in 12 for the loser.

Tech is now 2-1 while Western Kentucky dropped to 2-2.

New Mexico State (82) at Texas (101)— Ken Montgomery scored a career high 34 points including 24 in an explosive second half, to lead Texas to a 101-82 victory over New Mexico State.

Montgomery and center LaSalle Thompson, who scored 24, scored Texas' first 11 points to begin the
