Bryan man stable after Monday wreck

A nineteen-year-old Bryan man was injured in an accident involving an automobile and a bicycle at 12:30 Monday morning half a mile west of Agromony Road on FM 60 near the Veterinary Medicine Complex.
Injured was Sonny D. Nichols of 2402 B Toro.
According to a report by College Station police, the car, driven by Peter Phillip Weiss, a Texas A&M University student, 3200 B Cougar Trail in Bryan, was traveling west in the inside lane of FM 60 when the bicycle, driven by Nichols "apparently came straight across the center turn lane" into the path of the car and collided with it.
Nichols was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital by a College Station Fire Department Ambulance and underwent surgery around noon Monday. He is listed in stable condition.

Jewish remarks no hindrance to pastor

United Press International WASHINGTON — The Rev. Bailey Smith, whose remarks about Jews made him one of the most controversial leaders of the Southern Baptist Convention, said Monday he will seek a second term as head of the nation's largest Protestant denomination.
"I plan to be renominated," Smith told the 13.4 million-member denomination's official news agency. "People in high denominational posts as well as people in the field have been encouraging. I feel I need to do it."
Smith, pastor of First Southern Baptist Church of Del City, Okla., drew national attention as a leader of the conservative forces in the Baptist battle over the Bible and how it should be read and interpreted.
But it was his remark that God does not hear the prayers of a Jew, made at a conservative political rally in Dallas during the presidential campaign, that thrust the outspoken Smith into national prominence.
Fueling the fire, Smith was quoted later in the fall as joking during one of his sermons that "Jews have funny noses."
The remarks caused a flurry of criticism from both Jewish and Christian leaders, causing Smith to argue that he was not anti-Semitic and to seek a meeting with national Jewish leaders.
At that meeting he signed a statement saying Baptists "abhor, condemn and reject anti-Semitism," but he refused to withdraw the remarks. He said he had "distinctive theological beliefs that he cannot compromise."
The controversy, which Smith said brought threatening and abusive telephone calls to his home, led to rumors that he would not seek the traditional second term usually granted conference presidents.
In addition, moderates in the denomination have begun organizing to counter the influence of the biblical conservatives.
The moderates, however, have not decided whether to propose an opponent to Smith. Traditionally, SBC presidents seeking a second term are unopposed.

16 die mocking show

United Press International WASHINGTON — The National Coalition on Television Violence says 16 persons have killed themselves imitating the Russian roulette scene from the movie "Deer Hunter," shown last year on television.
"This is still further proof that television violence kills and that on-the-air warnings are of little value," said the coalition, formed last year to monitor TV violence.
The coalition, in its January newsletter, listed the names of 15 persons it said died imitating the "Deer Hunter" scene, dating back to March 20. It said the 16th was reported in Pennsylvania this month, but gave no name.
It also said two other persons were seriously wounded, including an "unidentified White House Secret Service agent" on Nov. 21.
The coalition said stations in Atlanta, Denver, Phoenix, Louisville, Oklahoma City, Little Rock, Fort Wayne, Ind., and St. Louis plan to show uncensored versions of the film this year.
On another subject, the coalition said more X-rated films were produced in 1980 than those for general audiences, with production of G-rated films falling from 32 percent of all films made in 1968 to only 4 percent last year.
The coalition said it began monitoring theater movies last September because its own surveys show 45 percent of television violence comes from movies shown on TV.

Rescuers looking for crew in icy North Sea waters

United Press International BODO, Norway — Rescue launches backed by a radar aircraft and helicopters searched the North Sea Monday for survivors from a Greek freighter that capsized in heavy seas.
The 70,000 ton Deifovos sank some 40 nautical miles offshore Sunday after its iron ore cargo shifted in 33-foot waves.
A rescue center spokesman said one Greek crew member had been found dead in a raft and 29 others had been rescued, some with broken arms and suffering from exposure. Eight crew members were still missing.
The Deifovos left the far northern port of Narvik Saturday bound for Dunkirk, France. It began issuing distress signals Sunday and sank shortly afterwards near the island of Vega.
