Here are wrapups of other Southwest Conference basketball games played Wednesday night:

TCU 58, BAYLOR 50

FORT WORTH — Darrell Browder hit six of his first seven shots in the second half Saturday night and Texas Christian hit 60 percent during the final 20 minutes to come from behind and stun the Baylor Bears, 58-50.

TCU trailed at the half, 27-21, but caught up and went ahead five minutes deep in the second period on a shot by Browder which made the score 29-23.

The surprising Horned Frogs thus finished the first half of the Southwest Conference season with a 4-4 record and boosted their overall mark to 7-11.

Baylor lost its second straight league game and dropped to 5-3, two games behind the conference-leading Houston Cougars. The Bears are 10-8 for the year.

RICE 46, TEXAS 40

AUSTIN — Kenny Austin scored four points in overtime Wednesday night, including a dunk shot with 18 seconds left that clinched the victory, to lift Rice to a 46-40 win over Texas and snap the Owls' 20-game losing streak against the Longhorns.

Rice, the surprising success story of the Southwest Conference this season, had not beaten Texas since 1970.

Ricky Pierce scored the last six Rice points in regulation to throw the game in an extra period and Austin sank two free throws with 1:16 remaining to put the Owls in front in the overtime.

Austin then put the game away at 44-40 on a fast-break stuff.

Texas' only two points in the overtime came on a jump shot by LaSalle Thompson with 22 seconds to go that cut the deficit to 42-40. The Longhorns had not scored since Thompson's jump shot which gave Texas a 38-36 lead with 1:27 left in the second half.

A sagging defense by Rice limited Thompson, who had scored 84 points in his last three games, to 10 points. Texas led for most of the contest, but with 4:59 remaining Pierce sank two free throws to put Rice in front at 36-34.

Texas scored eight unanswered points late in the first half to give the Longhorns their biggest lead at 21-13. But the Owls scored the last six points of the half to close to 22-19 at intermission.

Rice moved to 9-8 for the season and is 5-3 in Southwest Conference while Texas dropped to 8-10 and 3-5. Virdell Howland led the Longhorns with 12 points.

ARKANSAS 60, TEXAS TECH 35

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. — U.S. Reed scored all of his 10 points in the second half Wednesday night and Arkansas ran away from frustrated Texas Tech, 60-35, in a game spiced by the ejection of Red Raiders coach Gerald Myers.

Arkansas raised its Southwest Conference record to 5-3 at the midway point of the league race while Texas Tech, losers of five straight games, fell to 3-5.

Scott Hastings led the Razorbacks in scoring with 12 points while Darrell Walker and Reed each had 10. Clarence Swannegan also scored 10 to pace the Red Raiders, who have lost four straight SWC games as well as an inter-sectional setback against North Texas.

Arkansas climbed to 14-6 for the season while Tech is 9-9 on the year.

Aggie women beat TCU in first round

Kelley Sullivan scored 22 points to lead Texas A&M to a 69-59 win over TCU Wednesday while Houston had three players in double figures to trounce Rice 84-30 in first-round games of the Southwest Conference Women's Basketball Tournament.

A&M is now 5-15 and meets Texas Tech at 10:30 a.m. today while TCU, 13-11, goes against Rice, 13-7, at 4:30 this afternoon.

In the other game, Kip Anderson scored 18 points while Sharon Higgins and Vickey Finch each added 16 for Houston, now 13-5.

In other games scheduled today at the University of Houston's Hofheinz Pavilion, top-seeded Texas will take on Arkansas at 7 p.m. and second-seeded Baylor will play Southern Methodist at 9:30 p.m.

Should the Aggie women win the Tech game, they will have clinched a fourth place finish in the SWC Tournament.

Sheryl Clark and Kelly Krauskopf also paced the Aggies in the TCU contest with 12 and 10 points respectively.
