Sen. Andujar returns after heart attack

United Press International AUSTIN — State Sen. Betty Andujar, R-Fort Worth, returned to the Senate today for the first time since she had a heart attack Dec. 21.

The four-term senator made her first appearance on the job this session when she arrived late for a meeting of the Committee on Economic Development. Testimony on a set of right-to-work bills was interrupted so the senators and witnesses could Smiling and waving, Andujar took her seat. Within a few minutes, she asked the sponsor of the bills, fellow Republican Walter Mengden of Houston, why they should not be

B-CS unemployment rises R

By BELINDA McCOY

Battalion Staff
Although Bryan-College Station has the second lowest unemployment rate in Texas, 1980 unemployment rates are higher than 1979 figures.

Bryan-College Station had 2.7 percent unemployment in December, with Abilene's 2.4 percent the only lower rate in the state, according to Texas Employment Commission figures.

December's rate was down from November's 2.9 percent unemployment. But December 1980's unemployment rate rose from December 1979's 1.6 percent. This was due to a 7 percent increase in the civilian labor force — the number of people in the area available to The labor force increased because of an influx of industries, businesses, and oil field workers
