Rod "Rocket" Richardson is taking off for Texas A&M.
The speedster won two events Saturday to lead the Aggie men's track team to an impressive victory in a triangular track and field meet at the newly-revamped Kyle Field.

Running on the brand new Kyle Field track, Richardson, a freshman from Shreveport, La., ran a 10-second 100-meter dash and then came back to win the 200-meter dash in 20.87 as the Ags compiled 109 points to easily defeat Lamar University and UT-Arlington.

Another Louisiana product, Johnny Hector, the Aggies leading rusher on the 1980 football team, also had a double-win day, as he won the long jump with a 25-4 leap, and the triple jump at 49-4.

Texas A&M had 14 first places total on the day under somewhat blustery skies, but after a year and a half of not competing at home while Kyle Field was under renovation, the Aggies had a good homecoming.

Senior Leslie Kerr won the 400-meter dash in 46.05 and anchored the winning 1600-meter relay team in a 3:11.05 group effort.

One surprise was the failure of NCAA Indoor and Outdoor pole vault champion Randy Hall to place in the meet. He passed to 16-0 in the event and then failed to clear that height on three tries.

On a scoring system of 5-3-2-1 for individual events and 5-3-0 for relays, the Ags tallied 109 to Lamar's 45 and UTA's 35.

Aggie results:

10,000-meter run — M 3/4, Ray Muenich, 32:08.5; 3, Jimmy Sterling, 32:55.12; 4, Ralph Havens, 33:19.59.

Edwards claims title in Aggieland races

Texas A&M employee Kay Edwards was the women's star Saturday in the third annual Little Aggieland Bicycle Races, winning the women's individual class and leading her team to a first in that division.

Edwards, who is also a state champion in kayak and canoe competitions, outdistanced second place finisher Carol Choice in the women's individual and joined Deven Anthony and Marie Elise Jarreau in the team victory.

Anthony also won the men's individual over Richard Goelz and Terrance Spencer.

In second place in team competition were Roger Lee Madson, Dave Albergine and Chuck McFerrin. Bill Kilgore, Mike Eliades and Scot McLure finished in third.

The races, held on the streets bordering the drill field across from the Memorial Student Center, attracted 10 teams (three members on each team) and 10 men racers.

The event was sponsored by the Texas A&M Cycling Team.

Men's golf team takes 1st

Texas A&M shot a 15-under-par 849 Saturday to squeeze past the University of Houston's three-under 851 to win the two-day Border Olympic Golf Tournament.

Leading the pace for Texas A&M and the tournament was Danny Briggs, who shot a 207, nine under par.

Fellow Aggie Gary Kfuger and Houston's John Slaughter tied for second in individual honors with a five-under 211.

The University of Texas came in a distant third with an 875, 11 over par; followed by Texas Christian University, 882; North Texas State 887; Arkansas, 895; Lamar 901; Baylor, 911; and Pan American, 944.

Finishing fourth in the medalists competition was Arkansas' Bruce Jenkins with a 213; followed by Lamar's Ronnie Black with a 213.

The Texas A&M rifle team returned to College Station Sunday with a second place trophy it won at the Third Annual Mardi Gras Invitational, held in New Orleans.

It was the third year in a row for the Aggies to finish second place in the rifle match.

Thirty-five colleges and universities from around the country participated in the event with Eastern New Mexico winning it with a score of 2,177.

Texas A&M finished with a team score of 2,160 and Auburn University finished in third place with a score of 2,150.

Mike Winzeler paced the Aggies with a total score of 556 out of a possible 600. Winzeler shot 176 out of 200 in the standing position, good enough for second place.

Tammy Crafton, trainer Bobby Mc...

Thad Everheart shot 540, John Heye 529 and Glenn Park, 535 for the first team squad.

Texas A&M took two teams to the match, the second team finished in sixth place with a score of 2,043.

Kurt Nauck led the team with a score of 534; he also finished in second place in the prone position with a score of 198 out of 200. Troy Smith shot 521, Harvey Haney, 495 and Renee Ruth, 493.

The team will have a few weeks off before they participate in the Central Texas Invitational match in Austin.

The Aggies have participated in nine matches this year and have not finished below first or second in any of them.
